FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Greater Coeur d'Alene Community Foundation Gives $10,000 to Boost
Idaho Gives Community Prize Pool for Area Nonprofits (May 4–7)

Coeur d'Alene, ID — The Greater Coeur d'Alene Community Foundation (GCCF), an affiliate of The Idaho Community Foundation, announced a $10,000 contribution to the Idaho Gives Community Prize Pool to support nonprofits serving the greater Coeur d'Alene area during Idaho Gives, May 4–7, 2026.

This gift will provide prize awards to eligible organizations that demonstrate strong board leadership and community engagement, including achieving 100% board giving during Idaho Gives.

The announcement was made during The Idaho Community Foundation's Nonprofit Regional Impact Summit in Coeur d'Alene, which brought together nonprofit leaders from across northern Idaho to strengthen the communities they serve.

To qualify for the GCCF Community Prize Pool, nonprofits must:

- Participate in Idaho Gives
- Serve the greater Coeur d'Alene area
- Achieve 100% board giving to the organization they serve during Idaho Gives

Nonprofits can register for Idaho Gives at IdahoGives.org. Donations will be accepted May 4–7 at IdahoGives.org.

"Our region's nonprofits show up for this community every single day," GCCF representative Mary Sanderson shared. "This gift is our way of celebrating their work and encouraging even more generosity during Idaho Gives."

GREATER COEUR D'ALENE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

As GCCF continues to grow, it remains focused on building a long-term, community-rooted philanthropic resource that supports the greater Coeur d'Alene community for generations to come.
