FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Idaho Community Foundation Reports a Record
$21.2 Million in Charitable Giving in 2025

SUMMARY

In 2025, The Idaho Community Foundation awarded more than $16.1 million in grants, scholarships, and distributions to support Idaho communities. Nonprofits and students statewide benefited from this generosity, and Idahoans once again demonstrated the power of collective giving by raising a record $5.15 million during Idaho Gives. 2025 also marked a major milestone – surpassing $200 million in lifetime grantmaking – and reflected the strength of ICF’s newly merged organization, expanded statewide presence, and community-centered mission.

BOISE – The Idaho Community Foundation (ICF) announced today that it awarded more than $16.1 million in grants, scholarships, and charitable distributions in 2025. Combined with the record-breaking $5.15 million raised during Idaho Gives, ICF’s statewide, four-day giving event, ICF delivered more than $21.2 million in charitable impact to support nonprofits, students, and community-led initiatives in every region of the state. These investments reflect the generosity of ICF’s fundholders, donors, and partners—and reinforce Idahoans’ deep commitment to building thriving communities across all 44 counties.

These dollars supported the causes Idahoans care about most: educational and economic opportunities (45%), health and wellness (20%), housing stability (12%), community benefit (12%), arts and culture (8%), and environment and animal welfare (3%); helping ensure Idaho remains a place of possibility where everyone contributes to strong, connected communities.

A record-breaking year for Idaho Gives

Idaho Gives, the statewide celebration of generosity that unites nonprofits, donors, businesses, and community members, reached new heights in 2025. Idahoans came together to raise a record $5.15 million, providing crucial support to hundreds of organizations across the state.

This extraordinary outpouring of support underscores the power of collective action and Idaho's statewide culture of giving.

A pivotal year of growth, unity, and statewide impact

In 2025, ICF also surpassed $200 million in lifetime grantmaking, reaching this milestone years earlier than anticipated. In celebration, ICF awarded grants to nonprofits in every region of the state, honoring the communities and partners that have fueled its growth.

2025 marked the first full year of operation as a newly merged organization, uniting ICF and the Idaho Nonprofit Center with a single mission: to strengthen communities through philanthropy, elevate nonprofit impact, and connect Idahoans.

"This past year demonstrated what's possible when Idahoans move forward together," said ICF President & CEO, Steve Burns. "From record-breaking Idaho Gives to surpassing $200 million in lifetime grantmaking, the generosity of our fundholders, partners, and community members strengthened every corner of our state. These milestones aren't just numbers—they represent Idahoans lifting each other up, investing in their neighbors, and building a brighter future for generations to come."
