DEAR FRIENDS OF IDAHO—

"Pulling together, we can win." That's the theme of this year's annual report. Cooperation and collaboration have always been important to the Idaho Community Foundation, but never more so than today, as we strive to regain our momentum after a difficult year.

The year 2001 was challenging in many ways. Like all Americans, we were first shaken, then strengthened by the impact of September 11's attack. Its effect on the philanthropic community cannot be calculated with precision, but we believe that as charitable dollars appropriately flowed to the East Coast, contributions here in Idaho slowed significantly. The weak economy and the poor performance of the financial markets also had a negative effect on ICF, unfortunately at a time when we were experiencing the growing pains that are normal for any rapidly growing non-profit organization.

Our revenue growth slowed in 2001, but our costs increased as we enhanced our capacity to meet the needs of a growing number of donors and grant seekers. While distributions and grants in 2001 increased 30% to $2.6 million, total assets leveled off at about $47 million. ICF's vision for the future requires asset growth to enhance our ability to serve Idaho. Hence—we need to pull together—in order to win. September 11 has only strengthened our resolve to do so.

Our definition of a "win" is an Idaho made up of vibrant communities offering adequate employment choices; more and better education opportunities for all; appropriate assistance for the needy, be they elderly, sick, or poor; cultural experiences to nourish our spirits; and respect for the environmental qualities which make Idaho so special.

OUR MISSION

The mission of the Idaho Community Foundation is to enrich life's quality throughout Idaho.

We aim to achieve that mission by Gathering funds from donors—helping them achieve their charitable objectives; Growing the funds through a sound investment process; and Granting the funds for a broad variety of worthwhile projects statewide.

All of us who believe in the Idaho Community Foundation as a force for enriching life's quality throughout Idaho—achieving a win for Idaho—can pull together in the following ways:

- We can encourage more people to become ICF members to strengthen our base of committed advocates. (The membership as of March 31, 2002, is listed beginning on page 65. We need to grow this membership list.)
- We can create funds in the Foundation—endowed to do good in perpetuity or fully expendable, to maximize immediate assistance to charities. (To see how donors are using ICF to achieve their charitable goals, please turn to page 17.) If establishing a new fund is not optimal at this time, we can make a contribution or pledge toward any of ICF's existing funds.
- We can provide the Idaho Community Foundation board, regional advisory panels, and staff with information, ideas, comments, and advice. Idaho's vast diversity of geography, economy, and culture is a strength—but this complexity makes us very reliant on what we can learn from people in communities throughout the state.
- We can work for continuous improvement in our systems capability. This is essentially a task for the staff. The quality and efficiency of ICF's three key systems—accounting, donor services, and grants tracking—are critical to our long term success.

If you think this sounds like a prescription for teamwork, you're right. There's a place for everyone on the Idaho Community Foundation team.

As is our custom, we close this letter with thanks to the directors whose service ended in 2001—Elizabeth Casey, Salmon (now Nampa); Kenlon Johnson, Idaho Falls; and Park Price, Pocatello, who served as ICF's second chairman and was honored as our 2001 Friend of the Foundation. These committed directors have been capably replaced by Jordan Smith, Salmon; Doug Nelson, Idaho Falls; and Nick Ifft, Pocatello, a founding director who has returned to our board. These leaders, along with our other board members, regional advisory panelists, ICF members, and staff are pulling together to WIN for Idaho's people.

You're all invited to join in the effort.

FRIEND OF THE FOUNDATION

PARK PRICE III, POCATELLO

Park Price was born in Salt Lake City and brought up in Pocatello, the only child of an automobile dealer and his wife. Park left Idaho in 1960 to attend Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, where he graduated in Economics. He joined General Motors and had a successful career with them. When his father retired in 1979, Park returned to Pocatello and took over Park Price Motors.

Park and his wife Sharon through the years have established an exceptionally strong record of service to their community. When the Idaho Community Foundation was established in November of 1988, Park became one of its founding board members. His knowledge of Eastern Idaho, combined with his good business instincts and his keen sense of customer service, provided valuable guidance to the Foundation during its start-up years.

Park became ICF's second chairman, serving in this capacity from 1997 until 2000. When he retired from the board in 2001, he had served longer than any other director. During his years on the board he was a member at various times of each of ICF's board committees—Executive, Nominating, Gift Acceptance, Grants and Investments. He continues to serve on the Foundation's Investment and Nominating Committees.

As a member of the Foundation's Grants Committee from 1988 until 1992, Park was able to help shape the Foundation's initial grantmaking philosophy, which still guides us today. ICF's grantmaking process relies heavily on recommendations from community leaders who serve on advisory panels for each of the state's three regions. The Foundation believes in making many relatively small grants rather than a few large ones in order to channel philanthropic dollars into communities throughout Idaho.

The work of the Investment Committee has been of special interest to Park, since he believes that a sound investment process is critical to the future growth and development of the Foundation.

Hailing as he does from Eastern Idaho, perhaps Park's most important contribution to ICF was in demonstrating through his committed service as chairman, that the Idaho Community Foundation is truly a foundation for ALL of Idaho. The Foundation is officed in Boise, but its scope and vision are statewide.

Park was the person who sent us a thought used in the 2000 Annual Report: "The true meaning of life is to plant trees under whose shade you do not expect to sit." All of us at ICF agree that Park has discovered the true meaning of life. We are deeply appreciative of his contributions to the Idaho Community Foundation and therefore to Idaho.

FOUNDING DONORS

The Idaho Community Foundation owes its existence to the foresighted individuals, corporations, and organizations which joined together to create and endow the Foundation. Our Founding Donor campaign concluded December 31, 1992, having raised a total of $5 million. We are pleased to give continuous recognition to the vision and generosity of those who supported the Foundation in its first stages of growth. Many of these donors have made additional contributions to the Foundation in subsequent years.

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION

DEFINITION

A community foundation is a tax-exempt public charity that enables individuals and organizations to achieve their charitable intent by establishing charitable funds within the Foundation. Each fund is governed by its own legal document and is accounted for separately. The funds are pooled for more efficient and cost effective investment management.

The Idaho Community Foundation is Idaho's only statewide philanthropic organization supported by the public with private funds, assisting a broad range of charitable, cultural, and education projects within Idaho and occasionally beyond the state's borders.

HISTORY

ICF was established in 1988 with major assistance from Caldwell's Whittenberger Foundation and the Council on Foundations to broaden and deepen Idaho's pool of philanthropic capital.

GOVERNANCE

This is provided by a volunteer board of directors representing Idaho's diverse geography (see page 71 for a list of directors). Directors are elected by ICF's members, who also select the Foundation's independent public auditors, and serve as a communications network for ICF (see page 65 for a list of members, and contact the Foundation office for information on becoming a member). The Foundation's bylaws provide that none of the state's three regions—Northern, Eastern, or Southwestern—can have less than 25% or more than 48% of the Foundation's membership or board, thus ensuring that no one region may dominate the Foundation's affairs.

ASSETS AND ENDOWMENT

Total assets of the Foundation at year-end 2001 were $47.5 million. Endowment was $37.6 million. The difference between total assets and total endowment is comprised of special project funds and philanthropic gift funds which may be fully expended.

A FUND IN THE FOUNDATION

This is an individual account created by the contribution of a donor or group of donors. Each fund carries a name chosen by the donor or donors. That name and the guidelines established when the fund is created, become its distinguishing characteristics in perpetuity (see page 7 for a list of ICF fund types).

- Anyone can create a Foundation fund. Individuals, companies, nonprofit organizations, and other foundations have created funds.
- A person need not be wealthy to establish a "named fund" in the Foundation. Such a fund can be established with a minimum contribution of $5,000 in assets (or a pledge payable within a maximum of five years).

- Anyone may add to any fund in the Foundation, in any amount, at any time.

FEES AND CHARGES

There is no fee to establish a fund in the Foundation, and a minimum of paperwork is required.

- Most endowment funds are assessed an annual management fee of 1%, with .25% being assessed at the end of each quarter on the average market value of the fund.
- Endowment funds created by nonprofit organizations (agency funds) are assessed an annual management fee of one half of 1%, with .125% being assessed at the end of each quarter on the average market value of the fund.
- For non-endowed philanthropic gift funds there is no charge related to monies which remain in the fund for at least six months. ICF, however, retains the earnings on the fund. Monies expended from a philanthropic gift fund in less than six months are charged 2%.
- For special project funds which provide for the total expenditure of the contributions and earnings, ICF assesses 2% of each contribution. For those funds in existence for six months or longer as of December 31 of any given year, an additional 2% fee will be assessed based upon the average market value of the fund during the previous year.

Additionally, each fund, on a quarterly basis, is assessed its pro-rata share of the fees paid to ICF's investment managers. These fees in 2001 ranged from .06 - .75%, depending upon the individual manager.

GRANTS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

ICF makes grants statewide to fund a broad range of activities, services, and projects of established 501(c) charitable organizations, or governmental units, or their subsidiaries. The Foundation considers competitive requests for grants from its greatest need and field-of-interest funds on a regional basis. Applications from the Northern Region are accepted November 1– January 1; from the Eastern Region February 1–

April 1; and from the Southwestern Region May 1– July 1. Deadlines are subject to change. Please check ICF's website at www.idcomfdn.org for current information. (The grant making process is described in detail on page 61 and in a separate brochure, available on request.)

Distributions from designated and agency funds are made in the spring of each year. Grants from donor-advised funds may be made throughout the year.

CHOICES FOR DONORS

ENDOWED FUNDS

GREATEST NEED FUND

The donor's gift provides the Foundation with maximum flexibility in meeting needs throughout Idaho. Distributions from a greatest need fund are made without restriction at the discretion of ICF's regional advisory panels and board of directors, ensuring that the gifts will always address current issues. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their fund.

ADVISED FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may retain the privilege of participating in the selection of beneficiaries of their fund. While IRS regulations require that each final decision must rest with the Foundation's board of directors, the advice given by donors is fully considered in making grants from these funds.

FIELD-OF-INTEREST FUND

This option allows donors of $25,000 or more to limit grants from their funds to organizations or projects within a particular charitable field, geographic area, or combination thereof. The Foundation determines the annual beneficiaries of these funds within the bounds of the donor's wishes.

GEOGRAPHIC FUND

This fund is created to benefit a particular city, county, or otherwise defined geographic area by an individual or group of individuals who join together to contribute a minimum of $25,000. Distributions from the fund are made only within the defined geographic area, and are based on recommendations of a local advisory committee.

DESIGNATED FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may ensure long-term annual support to the charitable organization chosen at the time of the fund's creation. Should the designated organization cease to exist or become dysfunctional, the Foundation has the contractual ability to redirect the income in accord with the donor's original intent.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Donors of $10,000 or more may customize a scholarship fund to provide educational opportunities for graduates of certain schools, for studies in specific fields, or for programs at particular institutions of higher education.

AGENCY FUND

A charitable organization can ensure long-term annual support for the future and obtain the economies and potential rewards of participating in a larger investment pool by placing its endowment with the Foundation. An agency fund can be established with as little as $5,000, payable within five years. Distributions from the fund are made regularly to the participating agency for use as its board of directors deems appropriate. Contributors may add to the fund with any amount, at any time.

OPERATING ENDOWMENT FUND

Distributions generated by these permanent funds help to offset the operating costs of the Foundation and reduce the administrative fees that might otherwise have to be assessed to other funds of the Foundation. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their funds.

NON-ENDOWED FUNDS

PHILANTHROPIC GIFT FUND

With a contribution of $5,000 or more, a donor may establish a non-endowed, fully expendable fund from which the donor or donor-specified advisors may recommend distributions of $250 or more to any IRS-recognized charity at any time. The donor is not required to maintain a minimum balance in the fund. Advantages of such a fund include the ability to make tax-deductible donations of appreciated assets at a time of the donor's choice, thus bypassing capital gains tax liability, while the donor advises on the amount and timing of subsequent gifts from the fund.

SPECIAL PROJECT FUND

The Foundation occasionally serves its statewide community by receiving and managing non-endowed funds to support a special project. Such non-endowed gifts differ from endowment in that contributions, as well as the net income earned while the assets are held, will be expended in the near future.

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION

These may be created by donors who choose to affiliate with the Idaho Community Foundation by creating a new entity or transferring an existing fund or private foundation. Supporting organizations maintain their own identities while taking advantage of significant tax savings through their affiliation with ICF. Donors may participate actively in grantmaking and administration of the supporting organization, while receiving the professional support services of the community foundation. ICF may appoint a majority of the directors on the supporting organization's board.

THE LEGACY SOCIETY

Donors preferring to make a deferred gift may choose to name the Foundation as the beneficiary of a charitable trust, will, bequest, or other deferred giving instrument. Those willing to be recognized are named and thanked in the annual report as members of the Legacy Society. In many instances, the deferred gift donor receives benefits such as income or other use of property during his or her lifetime. Upon the donor's death, the remaining principal is transferred to the Foundation, and the earnings become available for charitable use as specified by the donor. Funds created through deferred gifts offer permanent recognition for the donor's philanthropic service to the community.

ADVANTAGES FOR DONORS

TAX BENEFITS

Since ICF qualifies as a public charity under federal regulations, gifts during a donor's lifetime or bequests to the Idaho Community Foundation are accorded the maximum tax advantages allowed by law. Major gifts to a community foundation such as ICF may qualify for special tax considerations and, in some cases, may be a superior alternative to creating a private foundation. Potential donors should consult with an estate planning professional about their specific circumstances.

FLEXIBILITY

ICF works with donors and/or their advisors to create a fund with terms and conditions designed to meet the specific requirements of each individual situation.

ECONOMY

There is no charge to create a fund in the Foundation, and administrative and investment management fees are reasonable.

CONVENIENCE AND EFFICIENCY

A minimum of paperwork is required to establish a fund in the Foundation, and ICF takes responsibility for all reports to the Internal Revenue Service and other governmental entities. One contribution to the Foundation can address a wide range of needs or interests, and can benefit any or a number of charitable organizations.

EFFECTIVENESS

The Foundation ensures good use of donor gifts through the professional grant research of the staff, the prudent and informed judgment of the regional advisory panels which review and make recommendations on grant requests, and the oversight of the board of directors.

GIVING OPTIONS

Almost any asset of value may be considered for a contribution. The Foundation can accept cash, securities, real estate, closely held stock, or other personal property. Funds may be established with pledges payable within five years. Contributions can be made during the donor's lifetime and/or through deferred gifts and bequests.

PERPETUITY

The agreement drawn to create an endowment fund in ICF ensures that the Foundation will honor the donor's charitable intent in perpetuity.

RECOGNITION

Each grant from a fund is identified to the recipient by the name of the donor and/or the name of the fund designated by the donor. Donors can, of course, request anonymity with the assurance that their wishes will be respected.

INVESTMENT EXPERTISE

Donors are assured of professional management of the Foundation's assets by experienced investment professionals, with oversight by the Investment Committee of ICF's board of directors.

ACCOUNTABILITY

For investment purposes, endowment funds are pooled, providing the opportunity to achieve better returns at lower costs. For accounting and reporting purposes, however, each fund is maintained as an individual, named entity, with separate tracking of earnings, pro-rata fees, and grant disbursements. The Foundation's financial records are subject to ongoing oversight by the board of directors and an annual independent audit.

GRANTS OUTSIDE IDAHO

Each fund in ICF must be of substantial benefit to Idaho, but fund creators may structure their funds so that some of the distributions go to charitable projects outside Idaho.

INFORMATION FOR PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS

THE CHALLENGE

Completing a charitable plan that meets the needs of each and every client can be time consuming. Your clients are counting on you for answers. By knowing more about all the possibilities of charitable giving, which can offer specific tax benefits, you can help them achieve other financial, personal or business goals. In fact, by assisting your clients with planned giving that truly integrates philanthropy with financial and estate planning, you can help your clients to achieve critical lifetime goals.

There are opportunities to assist your clients in maximizing the personal benefits of giving when they are making other major business, personal, and financial decisions in connection with the following: (1) estate planning; (2) writing or revising a will; (3) sale of a business or other major asset; (4) retirement planning; and (5) at times of a financial windfall, such as a merger.

One of the simplest and most important things you can do to help your clients enjoy the benefits of planned giving is to ask these two questions:

“How much money do you want your heirs to have?”

“Are there charitable or community needs you would like to consider?”

PULLING TOGETHER TO HELP YOUR CLIENTS

The Idaho Community Foundation can be a resource for you and a philanthropic partner for your clients. The Foundation enables individuals, families, companies and charitable organizations to make gifts, current or deferred, to benefit the community. You can link your clients with these opportunities.

ICF offers a variety of flexible giving options that can help your clients achieve maximum tax benefits. We can be a resource to families, helping to facilitate when families want to work together on their philanthropy. We bring our expertise to the table, helping donors find groups doing work they care about, or helping donors who have already made philanthropic decisions to structure gifts in a more strategic way. Many donors find starting a fund with ICF is a hassle-free and less expensive alternative to establishing a private foundation (see Comparing ICF with a Private Foundation—page 10).

CONTACT US

Our professional staff looks forward to working with you and your clients. We travel the state, and arrangements can often be made to meet with your clients where it is convenient for them and for you. If you have questions, please call us at 1-(800) 657-5357 or email us at info@idcomfdn.org.

PLANNED GIVING DESIGN CENTER

In addition to the day to day assistance we can provide, we invite you to visit the Planned Giving Design Center (PGDC), an interactive web site that ICF sponsors as a resource for anyone interested in estate and gift planning. If you are an advisor interested in timely information on all aspects of gift planning, this site will quickly become a favorite. The site includes tax rulings, digests, sample documents, and current news on changing tax laws. Getting started using the site is fast, simple, and free. To access, simply go to www.pgdc.net/ICF. Next, click on “Guest Login” which will take you to the PGDC foyer. From here you will be able to explore more of the site or register to receive all the benefits of the PGDC.

COMPARING ICF WITH A PRIVATE FOUNDATION

Starting a private foundation is a good option in certain situations, but here are some of the advantages gained by creating a partnership with the Idaho Community Foundation.

The bottom line: The donor who creates a fund in the Idaho Community Foundation can gain favorable tax advantages while avoiding administrative costs and headaches.

	ICF	PRIVATE FOUNDATION
Length of Time To Establish	A fund is easy to establish and can be set up in as little as one day.	Can be time-consuming and expensive. Generally requires creation of articles of incorporation, bylaws, and filing with the state and IRS. Usually requires the review of an attorney. The process can take more than three months.
Tax Benefits	A donor realizes maximum tax benefits.	Gifts may not receive as favorable tax treatment.
Excise Taxes	The fund does not pay excise tax. Therefore, there is more money available for charity.	The private foundation pays excise tax on net investment income, including net capital gains.
Tax Preparation	No separate tax return to file for donors	Must file annual federal tax return, disclosing investments, grants, trustee fees, salaries and other expenses.
Professional Oversight	Every fund benefits from well-qualified, professional staff and responsible board oversight and fiduciary responsibility. Each donor receives an annual financial report on the activity of the fund, noting distributions, income, and investment performance.	Many private foundations are too small to afford staff and liability insurance, or to benefit from reasonable investment fees.
Professional Management	Highly qualified, professional management for the long term.	Succession plans guaranteeing sound, effective management can be difficult to formulate and execute.
Required Payout	None. Distributions may vary from year to year in accordance with ICF's distribution policy.	Must distribute 5% of net asset value annually.
Grant Requests	Experienced staff available to help evaluate potential grantees.	Must establish a process to evaluate and respond to grant requests.
Disclosure	While tax returns of ICF are public, the records of individual funds are not, affording greater privacy in the operation of a fund.	Tax returns are public information and are entered into directories for grant-seekers.
Administrative Costs	All of ICF's services are provided at a very low cost (1% of the average fund balance for endowment funds). Costs are lower because every fund shares in defraying total costs.	Must bear all administrative costs, including staff salaries, benefits, insurance, office space, equipment, legal and accounting expenses, etc. Most experts agree that it takes a substantial asset base to justify the costs of creating and maintaining a private foundation.

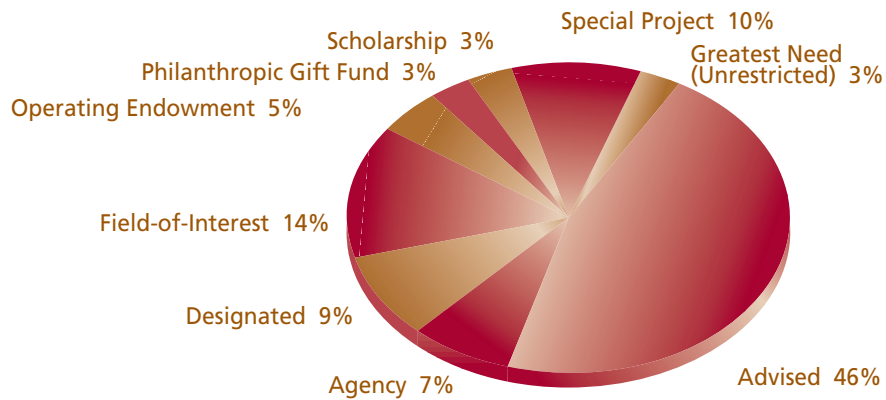

FUNDS IN THE IDAHO COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Funds in the Idaho Community Foundation are described below. The list of 2001 grant recipients from the funds and purposes for which grants were made can be found beginning on page 44 of this annual report. The date after each fund name listed below indicates the year in which the fund was established.

ENDOWED FUNDS

GREATEST NEED FUNDS

The donor's gift provides the Foundation with maximum flexibility in meeting needs throughout Idaho. Distributions from a greatest need fund are made without restriction at the discretion of ICF's regional advisory panels and board of directors, ensuring that the gifts will always address current issues. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their fund.

The Idaho Community Foundation contains the following greatest need funds with endowments of $500,000-$999,999:

J.A. and Kathryn Albertson Fund—1990

The gift from Mr. and Mrs. Albertson creating this fund was earmarked for broad charitable giving throughout Idaho.

The Idaho Community Foundation contains the following greatest need funds with endowments of $100,000-$249,999:

Deer Creek Endowment Fund—1995

Lynn Campion Waddell and Tom Campion established this fund in collaboration with the Helen K. and Arthur E. Johnson Foundation of Colorado and the Campion Foundation.

Charles Stewart Mott Charitable Fund—1990

This fund was created as a challenge grant in recognition of the importance that unrestricted giving has for a responsive community foundation.

The Idaho Community Foundation contains the following greatest need funds with endowments of $25,000 to $100,000:

Amalgamated Sugar Company Charitable Fund—1992

The earnings from this fund are distributed to meet the most critical needs of the state.

Lynn Campion Waddell, Hailey

THE DEER CREEK ENDOWMENT FUND was established by Lynn and by Tom Campion to provide support where, in the opinion of the ICF board, it is needed most. The Idaho Community Foundation today has about 300 funds, but only 20 are unrestricted—available to meet greatest needs. Funds of this type provide ICF with much needed flexibility in responding to issues throughout the state—often in communities where philanthropic dollars are scarce. We are especially appreciative when donors demonstrate their trust in the ICF grants process by establishing greatest need funds.

Lynn and her family also created a fully expendable, donor advised philanthropic gift fund in the Idaho Community Foundation—the Deer Creek Fund—as a vehicle for supporting charities and projects in Idaho which are of special interest to them.

Lex and Celia Kunau, Burley

THE MT. HARRISON HERITAGE FOUNDATION ENDOWMENT FUND is now benefiting from the Kunaus' commitment to Cassia County. The Kunau family has been in Cassia County for many years. As owners of Cassia County Abstract Company, they have watched the county grow. Several years ago Lex and Celia created an advised endowment in the Idaho Community Foundation to support charitable activities in Cassia County in perpetuity.

Most recently, Lex has been leading an effort to complete the task begun by his old friend and fellow ICF supporter Hermon King. Hermon, who died in 2001, started an endowment designated to benefit the Mt. Harrison Heritage Center in Burley. Like Hermon, Lex believes that Burley's new performing arts center will benefit forever from having a base of administrative support in the form of an endowment. As is true of all ICF funds, anyone may contribute to this fund, at any time, in any amount.

Larry LaPrise

Larry's love of music will be passed on to future generations through the fund that will provide scholarships for music students attending the College of Southern Idaho. LaPrise family members will help select the scholarship recipients.

THE OPERATING ENDOWMENT

The Idaho Community Foundation is fortunate that in its early years its board of directors had the vision to develop an operating endowment, contributed mainly by the business community. The operating endowment has always been important in helping to fund ICF's administrative expenses—its costs of doing business.

The income provided by the fund helps ICF maintain its modest fee structure for managing endowment funds. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their funds.

The operating endowment contains the following funds with assets of $100,000-$249,999:

J.A. and Kathryn Albertson Operating Fund—1990

Boise Cascade Corporation Operating Endowment Fund—1989

Northwest Area Foundation Operating Fund—1989

Idaho Community Foundation Operating Endowment Fund—1991

This fund was created to receive gifts from anyone interested in giving ICF ongoing help with its operating expenses.

NON- ENDOWED FUNDS

During 2001, the Foundation managed the following non-endowed funds:

PHILANTHROPIC GIFT FUNDS

With a contribution of $5,000 or more, a donor may establish a non-endowed, fully expendable fund from which the donor or donor-specified advisors may recommend distributions of $250 or more to any IRS recognized charity at any time. The donor is not required to maintain a minimum balance in the fund. Advantages of such a fund include the ability to make tax-deductible donations of appreciated assets at a time of the donor's choice, thus bypassing capital gains tax liability, while the donor advises on the amount and timing of subsequent gifts from the fund.

Idaho Women's Charitable Foundation

These women are pioneers in Idaho philanthropy. Believing that there's more to philanthropy than just writing a check, they borrowed a good idea from the Washington Women's Foundation, recruited members, and established a philanthropic gift fund in ICF to facilitate the administration of their program. They aim to inspire women to become leaders in philanthropy and to demonstrate the impact that pooled monies can have in bringing positive change to our communities. Members commit to three years of a $1000 annual contribution. Half this amount is pooled and allocated for projects researched and chosen by the group. The other half is available for the individual's own grantmaking. The organization began in Boise, but its founders hope in time the concept will be adopted by women in other Idaho communities.

Earl and Judy Lunceford, Coeur d'Alene

North Idaho is "home" for Earl and Judy Lunceford. They have a ranch at Coeur d'Alene, enjoy raising and riding horses, travel extensively, and spend time in Arizona during the winter.

Earl was born and raised in Coeur d'Alene and spent his career in research, development and sales of medical technology and products. Judy grew up on Cape Cod in Massachusetts, came west in her 20's, and was an active nurse for 35 years.

Though Judy will always have a love for New England, both she and Earl feel a strong commitment to North Idaho. They know they've been fortunate in their lives and wanted to give back to their community.

"Our philanthropic gift fund in the Idaho Community Foundation has provided us with a simple vehicle for providing our gifts to organizations that we believe will benefit our community in positive ways," Earl says.

SPECIAL PROJECT FUNDS

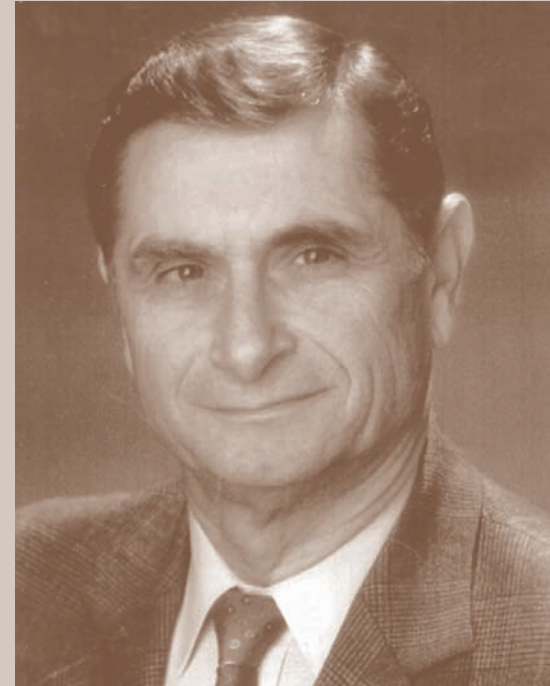

The Foundation occasionally serves its statewide community by receiving and managing non-endowed funds to support a special project. Such non-endowed gifts differ from endowment in that contributions, as well as the net income earned while the assets are held, will be expended in the near future.

Adams County Historical Preservation and Museum Association’s 1915 Courthouse Fund—2001

Created by a group of community volunteers, contributions to the fund will be used to build this special project fund intended to preserve and restore the historic Adams County Courthouse.

Ben Rolphe, Post Falls

THE ROLPHE FAMILY FUND was established by Hayden Lake resident Ben Rolphe following the sale of his business, Century Publishing Co. He founded Century in 1971 in Montana and relocated the company to Post Falls in 1976. Century Publishing developed into a national printing company, serving diverse industries.

Ben’s broad range of philanthropic and community work made it inevitable for him to think about his family’s philanthropic goals following the sale of his company. The Rolphes had had a family foundation for over forty years. Ben has closed that foundation and transferred its assets to the Idaho Community Foundation. Ben says he was attracted by ICF’s goals, simplicity, and the freedom from paperwork.

The fund Ben established at ICF is a fully expendable, donor-advised philanthropic gift fund, which provides maximum future flexibility to the Rolphes in their giving.

Now beautifully restored, the home will be used for state functions, some office and conference space, and catered events. Created through gifts from Micron Technology, Ore-Ida Foods, and T.J. International. The fund provides nine scholarships to students enrolled in an Idaho college or university and who were chosen from among entrants to the Les Bois Run, Walk, & Roll event to benefit United Cerebral Palsy of Idaho, Inc.

THE SPINOZA BEAR PROGRAM FUND WAS ESTABLISHED BY Nextel Partners, Inc. The program, which has been successfully implemented across Canada by this telecommunications company, was recently introduced to Idaho.

Spinoza is a seventeen-inch tall teddy bear with a high quality cassette tape player and speaker hidden deep in his fur. Fifty bears are being provided each year to visually impaired Treasure Valley children in order to promote early independence and literary skills. Spinoza plays any standard cassette tape, including those recorded by parents and caregivers. Just imagine how comforting it must be for a visually impaired child to curl up for a nap, cuddling Spinoza, while the child's favorite story or the soothing voice of a parent is emanating from Spinoza's furry chest.

ICF's role is to pay the bills connected with the program from the special project fund established by Nextel. Recipients are chosen on a first come, first served basis by Nextel employees, and the bears are distributed with the help of the Delta Gamma sorority.

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION

These may be created by donors who choose to affiliate with the Idaho Community Foundation by creating a new entity or transferring an existing fund or private foundation. Supporting organizations maintain their own identities while taking advantage of significant tax savings through their affiliation with ICF. Donors may participate actively in grantmaking and administration of the supporting organization, while receiving the professional support services of the community foundation. ICF may appoint a majority of the directors on the supporting organization's board.

The Kissler Family Foundation

was established in 1998 by James A. Kissler, Boise., and is affiliated with the Idaho Community Foundation. The Kissler Family Foundation provides grants to organizations and projects of special interest to the family, with an emphasis on health-related projects. The Kisslers established Norco, a five state distributor of welding, safety and medical gases and supplies in the Northwest. As individuals and as corporate citizens, the Kissler family has always been interested in the constructive development of the communities served by Norco.

GRANTS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

“PULLING TOGETHER WE CAN WIN.”

That’s what ICF’s grantmaking process is all about. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, the dedicated work of the regional advisory panels, and the commitment of the people all over Idaho who write and submit grant applications, the Foundation is able to provide significant dollars each year toward making life in Idaho even better—and it’s pretty good already. Since ICF grantmaking began in 1991, the Idaho Community Foundation has distributed more than $12 million for worthwhile philanthropic projects.

TELL US WHAT YOU NEED

ICF’s mission is to enrich life’s quality throughout Idaho. Our definition of that mission changes as the needs of Idaho communities change. Distributions from competitive grants are as local in nature as possible, responding to community or regional issues as presented to the Foundation through an application process by organizations in individual communities. Non-competitive distributions, that come from donor advised, donor designated, and agency funds, also reflect the needs of Idaho as perceived and defined by the persons and organizations that established and advise the funds.

REGIONAL GRANT CYCLES

While the Foundation distributes grants in a number of different ways, perhaps the most visible is the competitive grant program which includes three regional grant cycles.

The Northern Region consists of Benewah, Bonner, Boundary, Clearwater, Idaho, Kootenai, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, and Shoshone Counties.

The Eastern Region consists of Bannock, Bear Lake, Bingham, Bonneville, Butte, Caribou, Clark, Custer, Franklin, Fremont, Jefferson, Lemhi, Madison, Oneida, Power, and Teton Counties.

The Southwestern Region consists of Ada, Adams, Blaine, Boise, Camas, Canyon, Cassia, Elmore, Gem, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka, Owyhee, Payette, Twin Falls, Valley, and Washington Counties.

Additional details on the Regional Grant Cycles, along with current applications, deadlines, and criteria are available on the Foundation’s website at www.idcomfdn.org.

REGIONAL ADVISORY PANELS

In order to receive grass roots input on the competitive grant applications, ICF depends on the recommendations made by an advisory panel in each of its three regions. The community leaders who serve as volunteers on the panels have the demanding task of carefully analyzing the grant applications from their respective regions. Panel members reviewed 758 competitive grant applications in 2001. In making funding decisions, ICF’s board of directors relies heavily on the local knowledge that panel members bring to the grant application review process. Membership on the regional advisory panels is shown on page 72 of this report.

GIVING WHERE THE DOLLARS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Most of ICF's competitive grants are less than $5,000, with some education grants ranging up to $25,000. This is because rather than making a few large grants each year, we are interested in helping many Idaho communities. ICF provides philanthropic capital in towns where charitable dollars are often very hard to find. We like the idea of making grants that can be leveraged to produce an improved result for the community. The leveraging effect often occurs within ICF itself, with donor advisors recommending grants based on competitive applications the Foundation has received. In 2001, donor advisors recommended hundreds of thousands of dollars for distribution to competitive grant applicants – funds that were in addition to established competitive grant budgets. This kind of “pulling together” is a win for Idaho communities.

WORKING WITH DONOR ADVISORS

The grantmaking process of the Idaho Community Foundation gives ongoing consideration to the desires of donors who have established funds in the Foundation. Many advisors review the competitive grant applications ICF has received before recommending a distribution from their fund in a given year. The grants made upon the recommendation of donor advisors and other non-competitive distributions represent about half of the Foundation's total distributions each year. Turn to the Funds section in this report beginning on page 11 to learn more about distributions from the Foundation's current funds.

PARTNERSHIPS

The Idaho Community Foundation has well-established relationships with a number of funding partners. Foundations such as the J.A. and Kathryn Albertson Foundation, the Steele-Reese Foundation, and the Helen K. and Arthur E. Johnson Foundation take advantage of ICF's application process and the local knowledge of our regional advisory panel members to make grants through the Idaho Community Foundation. ICF is always exploring ways to facilitate these and other partnerships, working to deepen the pool of philanthropic money available to support Idaho projects.

GIVING WHERE DONORS HAVE CREATED FUNDS

We are often asked why some geographic areas seem to fare much better than others in terms of the grants they receive from the Idaho Community Foundation. The answer: some areas benefit directly from endowment funds established by donors, with the distributions directed in perpetuity to those specific geographic areas. Blaine, Gem, and Kootenai Counties are good examples of this.

GIVING THROUGH STATEWIDE AND REGIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Another reason for this apparent disparity in funding is the tendency of organizations or state agencies that serve large regions or even the entire state to be based in an urban area. Grants to the Idaho Shakespeare Festival, for example, are listed under Ada County, but they support the “Shakespeareance” program. This creative outreach program brings the wonders of Shakespeare to youth throughout our state.

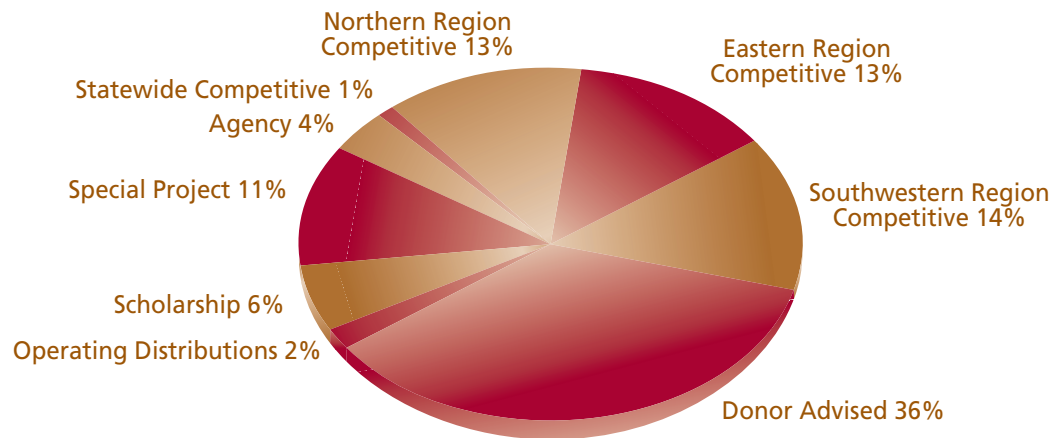

Other examples include an Ada County grant to the Idaho Council on Economic Education to fund teacher training in North Idaho; a Bannock County grant to support Idaho State University's Senior HealthMobile Project which travels to surrounding counties; and a Kootenai County grant to the Inland Northwest Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association to support caregiver training throughout the region. Many organizations and projects cross county lines, emphasizing the value of a statewide community foundation that can work to address local funding needs.

GRANTS OUTSIDE IDAHO

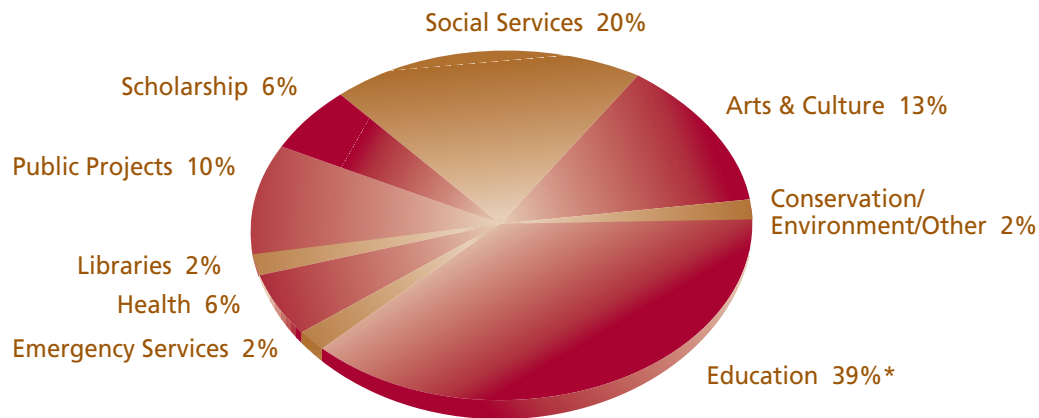

Each fund established in the Idaho Community Foundation must be of substantial benefit to Idaho. Within this guideline, ICF believes it is appropriate to consider the advice of donor advisors who, while recommending distributions to Idaho charities, also may recommend distributions in other states where they have roots and connections. Examples of this can be found with our scholarship awards, as youth from Idaho high schools sometimes choose to pursue out-of-state avenues of education.

GUIDELINES FOR IDAHO COMMUNITY FOUNDATION GRANTS

ICF makes grants to fund activities, services, and projects of established 501(c) charitable organizations or governmental units or their subsidiaries, consistent with ICF's mission "to enrich life's quality throughout Idaho." The Foundation is especially interested in providing assistance to organizations seeking to meet emerging community needs.

Currently there are three regional competitive grant cycles annually:

- The Northern Region call for proposals begins on November 1 and closes on January 1 with final approval by the board of directors scheduled for their May meeting.
- The Eastern Region call for proposals begins on February 1 and closes on April 1 with final approval by the board of directors scheduled for their August meeting.
- The Southwestern Region call for proposals begins on May 1 and closes on July 1 with final approval by the board of directors scheduled for their November meeting.

ICF accepts grant applications only during the cycle specified for the region in which the proposed grantmaking activity will be undertaken. Additional details on the Regional Grant Cycles, along with current applications and criteria, are available on the Foundation's website. Deadlines are subject to change. Please check ICF's website at www.idcomfdn.org for current information.

FAVORED ACTIVITIES:

In general, the Idaho Community Foundation favors activities that:

- Reach a broad segment of the community, especially those citizens whose needs are not being met by existing services that are normally expected to be provided by private rather than government sources
- Request seed money to realize unusual opportunities to meet urgent needs in the community
- Stimulate and encourage additional funding
- Promote cooperation and avoid duplication of effort
- Help make a charitable organization more effective and efficient and better able to sustain itself over the long term.

LOW PRIORITY AREAS:

The following areas are of low priority to ICF and usually will not receive funding:

- Reduction of debt
- Grants to individuals (except scholarships)

- Fund raising projects
- Travel for individuals or teams
- Attendance at conferences, seminars or other projects
- Endowments
- Programs that fall more appropriately under government funding, such as operating expenses for public schools and police and fire protection
- Capital projects for which the Foundation's ability to contribute will be only a very small portion of the total budget and, therefore, will have little impact on the success of the project.

THE FOUNDATION WILL NOT CONSIDER GRANTS FOR:

- Religious organizations for the sole purpose of furthering that religion (this prohibition does not apply to funds created by donors who have specifically designated religious organizations as beneficiaries of the funds)
- Political activities or those designed to influence legislation
- National organizations (unless the monies are to be used to benefit citizens of Idaho or the organizations are specifically designated by the donor as beneficiaries of the fund)
- Grants that directly benefit the donor or the donor's family.

DONOR ADVISED GRANTS:

The Foundation also makes grants from a variety of funds throughout the year that are not open for general applications. Many of these funds support organizations and charitable projects specified by the fund donor or recommended by individual or family fund advisors. An increasing number of advisors to these types of funds are relying on information gathered by the Foundation through ICF's competitive application process to identify organizations and programs they may wish to support with their philanthropic dollars. For grantseekers, this emphasizes the importance of applying during ICF's competitive grant cycles. You never know how or when a funding connection could be made through ICF's ever-growing family of donors.

Occasionally, donor advised funds make distributions based on an application process not tied to ICF's regular competitive grant cycles. Notification of these grant programs is done through local media and ICF's newsletters. As they become available, applications may be found on ICF's website at www.idcomfdn.org.

SCHOLARSHIPS:

ICF manages dozens of different scholarship funds - each customized as to scope and selection criteria according to the desires of the fund creator. Each scholarship has its own application requirements, review process, and application deadline. Many of these scholarships are limited to residents of specific counties or graduates of specific high schools. Most of the scholarship programs with funds in ICF are administered through high school counseling offices or through a higher educational institution's financial aid office. Checking with these offices is a good first step in identifying scholarships for which you may qualify. A few of ICF's scholarship programs, such as the Alois and Marie Goldmann Scholarship Fund and the Jim Poore Memorial Scholarship Fund are not tied to a particular institution and allow students to apply directly to an independent scholarship committee. Guidelines and applications for these programs are available on ICF's website at www.idcomfdn.org. Additional information on other scholarship programs will be added to the website as it becomes available.

FINANCE

INVESTMENTS

POLICY

The Idaho Community Foundation invests for the long term in accord with a written policy on investments and distributions that is available on request. The Foundation aims for an asset allocation of 70% equities and 30% fixed income securities. Funds in the Foundation which are not endowed and are fully expendable are invested in liquid, money market instruments. Such funds include donor-advised philanthropic gift funds and special project funds.

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE

The Investment Committee of the board of directors (see page 71 for membership) provides oversight for the investment process. The Investment Committee makes recommendations to the board on asset allocation and the selection of investment managers to provide the Foundation with an appropriate degree of diversification and management style differentiation.

INVESTMENT MANAGERS

ICF currently retains the following managers for the equity portion of its portfolio: Dimensional Fund Advisors, TCW Group, and The Vanguard Group. The Foundation's fixed income managers are Wells Fargo Bank, Key Trust of Idaho, and U.S. Bank. The Investment Committee meets at least annually with individual representatives of the investment managers to discuss past performance and plans for the coming year. Strategic Investment Solutions provides performance measurement services as well as investment advisory consultation.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

Like most long term investors, the Idaho Community Foundation believes in accepting the risks inherent in investing in equities in order to benefit from the long term rewards which usually result from such an investment strategy. In 2001 the poor financial markets which accompanied the recession and the nation's September 11 tragedy contributed to a modest loss in the Foundation's portfolio.

The Foundation's investment performance has been as follows:

1 year	-5.6%
3 years	3.0%
5 years	8.2%

DISTRIBUTIONS

The Foundation applies the Total Return Concept (TRC) in determining the funds available for distribution from a given fund. In accord with this concept, the Foundation board establishes a distribution level each year which bases distributions on the average market value of an individual fund for the prior two to thirteen quarters, depending upon when the fund was established. This spending level is based on long term performance trends, and not on results for any one year, thus avoiding severe fluctuations in dollars available for distribution.

Historically, the funding level has been five percent of a fund's average market value.

The objective of the Total Return Concept is to allow the Foundation to be responsive to current needs while maintaining the purchasing power and grantmaking capacity of its endowment over the long term.

(1) Other assets include the ICF house, property, equipment, and works of art. The works of art were contributed to the Foundation during 1994. In accordance with the endowment agreement, these works of art will be liquidated within a reasonable period of time, and the net proceeds from the sales will be added to the endowment fund. During 1996, the Foundation recorded a non-cash charge of $1,445,448 to adjust the artwork to estimated net realizable value. This adjustment represented a reduction of $1,016,471 in the value of the artwork and an increase of the allowance for estimated commission and other selling expenses of $428,977. During 2001, the Foundation determined that, based on estimated selling prices of works on-hand and historical cash collections after commissions and other selling expenses, an additional allowance was necessary to properly reflect the net realizable value of the works. Therefore, the Foundation recorded a non-cash charge of $198,337 to adjust the artwork to estimated net realizable value. This adjustment represented an increase of the allowance for estimated commission and other selling expenses. The December 31, 2001 and 2000 works of art balances of $646,935 and $864,995, respectively, are net of allowances for estimated commission and other selling expenses of $1,305,222 and $1,154,812, respectively.

(2) During 2000 the Foundation adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 136, which specifically requires that if a not-for-profit organization establishes a fund at a community foundation with its own funds and specifies itself as the beneficiary of that fund, the community foundation must account for the transfer of such assets as a liability. The Foundation refers to such funds as agency endowments. For financial reporting purposes. Distributions from agency endowments are not included in Grants and Distributions.

(3) Represents outstanding pledges.

(4) For 2001 includes $90,647 in investment management fees, $50,821 for technology upgrades, and $198,337 provision for artwork allowance.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE IDAHO COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Question: How can the people in a big, geographically, culturally, and economically diverse state like Idaho pull together to make things better statewide? How can they help to enrich life's quality throughout Idaho?

Answer: Through membership in the Idaho Community Foundation.

In accordance with ICF's bylaws, no one of ICF's three regions can have more than 48% or less than 25% of the membership. The same bylaw provision applies to composition of the board of directors. ICF's founders wanted to be sure the Foundation's membership and board were truly representative of Idaho as a whole.

Responsibilities of members include electing the Foundation's board, appointing its independent public auditors, and providing general advice and assistance. The Foundation's members form a statewide network of communications capability and support. Over time, we hope to have members in every county and community in Idaho.

ICF offers a graduated membership fee structure to accommodate those members who wish to support Foundation operating expenses at more than the $25 minimum cost of membership. Membership contributions are tax-deductible. For information about becoming a member, please visit our website or contact the ICF office.
