OUR MISSION

The mission of the Idaho Community Foundation is to enrich the quality of life throughout Idaho. We pursue that mission by gathering funds from donors while helping them achieve their charitable objectives; growing the funds over time through a sound investment process; and granting the funds for a broad variety of worthwhile projects statewide.

ICF Staff: Jaime Browning, Stewart Edwards, Holly Motes, Alice Hennessey, Marc Orcutt, Lauren Carlson, Amy Stockburger

The habit of giving only enhances the desire to give.

—Walt Whitman

Dear Friends of the Idaho Community Foundation,

You may be a donor, you may be a member, a grant recipient, a financial advisor, or you may live in a community that has benefited from an ICF grant. Whatever your relationship to the Idaho Community Foundation, we want you to know that in these difficult times—as in the past twenty years—we're here for you.

Alice E. Hennessey

Douglas R. Nelson

LOOKING BACK

Despite the fact that the economy was already turning down, you were here for us in 2008. Donation and membership revenue totaled $11,291,000 last year, with $2,242,693 of that amount going to our endowment. We appreciate this continued support. It was especially helpful since the return on our portfolio in 2008 was negative 32%—disappointing, but comparable to the results of most similar endowments and foundations.

The Idaho Community Foundation, in turn, was able to make grants from our endowment of $2,499,553 and distributions from fully expendable funds of $4,331,835. This total of $6,831,388 for projects and scholarships reinforced our mission of enriching the quality of life throughout Idaho.

LOOKING AHEAD

As we write this letter, the state of our economy is bleak, and people are very apprehensive. Here at ICF, we're remaining focused on our mission. Our door is open. We're here to serve.

If you're a donor—or have been thinking about becoming a donor—this is an excellent time to increase or start a fund. Depressed financial markets inevitably rise again, and this time will be no exception. Funds deposited at ICF now will benefit from that future growth.

If you're a member, we're here to listen to your good ideas and suggestions. We're here to put you to work as a volunteer if you have available time.

If you're a financial advisor, we're here to help you serve your clients, whether they would benefit from creating a fund in the Foundation, a charitable gift annuity, or a charitable trust. Perhaps your clients just need to talk about their hopes and ideas. We're here to listen and suggest.

If you're a grant seeker, you'll be pleased to know that for the year 2009, the Foundation's board approved a 5% distribution from our endowed funds—the same distribution percentage as in past years. The total return policy—described in the Financial section of this report—explains the process which allows us to accumulate funds in excellent markets in order to have funds available when markets are down. We're here, to help in every way we can, be it with a grant or sometimes just with encouragement and advice.

2009 will be a year of change at the Idaho Community Foundation, as we welcome a new President and CEO to lead the way in carrying out our mission. We hope that new leader will find the same satisfaction we each have in our work at ICF.

Now, more than ever, the Idaho Community Foundation is proud to be a resource for Idaho and its people.

QUESTION: What is the Idaho Community Foundation?

ANSWER: What do you need it to be?

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION

DEFINITION

A community foundation is a tax-exempt public charity that enables individuals and organizations to achieve their charitable intent by establishing charitable funds within the Foundation. Each fund is governed by its own legal document and is accounted for separately. The funds are pooled for more efficient and cost effective investment management.

The Idaho Community Foundation (ICF) is Idaho's only statewide public foundation administering charitable funds on behalf of a variety of donors in order to support the humanitarian, educational, and cultural programs that benefit Idaho communities. Established in 1988, ICF enables individuals and organizations to achieve their philanthropic goals by establishing charitable funds, while creating a permanent source of funding for nonprofits throughout the state.

To achieve our mission of enriching the quality of life throughout Idaho, the Foundation:

Gathers funds from a range of individuals, families, businesses, and organizations—offering each an individual fund tailored to meet their specific needs and charitable goals. Each fund carries the name chosen by the donor(s), who also determine the type of fund, any guidelines, and their preferred level of involvement in the grant-making process. For additional information, please see page 19.

Grows funds for the long term, with an investment objective to maintain and when possible increase the purchasing power of permanent funds. An experienced volunteer investment committee oversees ICF's professional investment managers and advises the board on investments, including the annual grant percentage payout rate. For additional information, please see page 14.

Grants funds to charitable and educational organizations, enabling them to better achieve their missions and strengthen Idaho communities. Funds support a range of areas, including: arts and culture, education, emergency services, health, libraries, the environment, public projects, recreation, and social services. For additional information, please see page 44.

GOVERNANCE

ICF is governed by a volunteer Board of Directors, elected by ICF's members and representing Idaho's diverse geography. To ensure that none of the state's three regions—Northern, Eastern, and Southwestern—can dominate ICF governance, our Bylaws provide that no region can have less than 25% or more than 48% of ICF's Board representation.

ASSETS AND ENDOWMENT

Total assets of ICF at year-end 2008 were $55,125,365, which includes $43,481,000 of endowment. The remaining assets consist primarily of non-endowed funds, such as special project funds and philanthropic gift funds; these are fully expendable funds invested conservatively in liquid money market instruments.

Participants of the Boys and Girls Club of Nampa, such as the girls pictured above, are offered a range of programs designed to develop character and life-enhancing skills. The Club is a community-based organization providing Nampa youth, ages 6-18, with a fun, safe, and constructive environment during non-school hours.

We're Here for DONORS

ICF respects and celebrates the many different philanthropic goals of donors and is always prepared to offer the following services:

- Personalized assistance that helps donors define their charitable goals and establish an individually-tailored fund to achieve desired results.
- Acceptance of a wide variety of assets which can be converted to endowed or fully-expendable funds to ensure support to Idaho charities.
- Frequent updates on the financial status of these funds.
- Assistance in grant-making to identify, evaluate, and follow up with the recipients of grants from these funds.

TYPES OF IDAHO COMMUNITY FOUNDATION CHARITABLE FUNDS AVAILABLE TO DONORS

ENDOWED FUNDS

Permanent funds established to provide long-term support. Each year, the Board of Directors determines a payout rate (historically 5%) aimed to protect the long-term value of the fund, while allowing for distributions to meet community needs.

GREATEST NEED FUND (UNRESTRICTED)

The donor's gift provides the Foundation with maximum flexibility in meeting needs throughout Idaho. Distributions from a greatest need fund are made without restriction at the discretion of ICF's Regional Grants Panels and Board of Directors, ensuring that the gifts will always address current issues. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their fund.

DONOR ADVISED FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may retain the privilege of participating in the selection of beneficiaries of their fund. While IRS regulations require that each final decision must rest with the Foundation's board of directors, the advice given by donors is fully considered in making grants from these funds. A donor may name successor advisors, such as his or her children, giving them the opportunity to carry on the family's tradition of philanthropy.

FIELD OF INTEREST FUND

This option allows donors of $25,000 or more to limit grants from their funds to organizations or projects within a particular charitable field, geographic area, or combination thereof. The Foundation determines the annual beneficiaries of these funds within the bounds of the donor's wishes.

GEOGRAPHIC FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may create a fund to benefit a particular city, county, or otherwise defined geographic area. Distributions from the fund are made only within the defined geographic area.

DESIGNATED FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may ensure long-term annual support to the charitable organization chosen at the time of the fund's creation. Should the designated organization cease to exist or become dysfunctional, the Foundation has the contractual ability to redirect the distributions in accord with the donor's original intent.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Donors of $25,000 or more may customize a scholarship fund to provide educational opportunities for graduates of certain schools, for studies in specific fields, or for programs at particular institutions of higher education.

AGENCY FUND

A charitable organization can ensure long-term annual support for the future and obtain the economies and potential rewards of participating in a larger investment pool by placing its endowment with the Foundation. An agency fund can be established with as little as $10,000, payable within five years. Distributions from the fund are made regularly to the participating agency for use as its board of directors deems appropriate. Contributors may add to the fund with any amount, at any time.

OPERATING ENDOWMENT FUND

Distributions generated by these permanent funds help to offset the operating costs of the Foundation and reduce the administrative fees that might otherwise have to be assessed to other funds of the Foundation. Contributors of $5,000 or more have the privilege of naming their funds.

NON-ENDOWED FUNDS

Fully-expendable funds that allow for maximum flexibility. Funds are invested in conservative, liquid, money market instruments to allow for immediate distributions.

PHILANTHROPIC GIFT FUND

With a contribution of $5,000 or more, a donor may establish a non-endowed, fully expendable fund from which the donor or donor-specified advisors may recommend distributions of $250 or more to any IRS-recognized charity at any time. The donor is not required to maintain a minimum balance in the fund. Advantages of such a fund include the ability to make tax-deductible donations of appreciated assets at a time of the donor's choice, thus bypassing capital gains tax liability, while the donor advises on the amount and timing of subsequent gifts from the fund.

SPECIAL PROJECT FUND

The Foundation occasionally serves its statewide community by receiving and managing non-endowed funds to support a special project. Such non-endowed gifts differ from endowment in that contributions, as well as the net income earned while the assets are held, will be expended in the near future.

OTHER GIVING OPTIONS

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION

These may be created by donors who choose to affiliate with the Idaho Community Foundation by creating a new entity or transferring an existing fund or private foundation. Supporting organizations maintain their own identities while taking advantage of significant tax savings through their affiliation with ICF. Donors may participate actively in grantmaking and administration of the supporting organization, while receiving the professional support services of the community foundation. ICF may appoint a majority of the directors on the supporting organization's board.

THE LEGACY SOCIETY

Donors preferring to make a deferred gift may choose to name the Foundation as the beneficiary of a charitable trust, will, bequest, or other deferred giving instrument. Those willing to be recognized are named and thanked in the annual report as members of the Legacy Society. In many instances, the deferred gift donor receives benefits such as income or other use of property during his or her lifetime. Upon the donor's death, the remaining principal is transferred to the Foundation, and the assets become available for charitable use as specified by the donor. Funds created through deferred gifts offer permanent recognition for the donor's philanthropic service to the community.

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITY

A charitable gift annuity is a simple contract between the donor and the Foundation. It gives a donor the opportunity to make a charitable gift and secure a stream of income for life.

Under this arrangement, donors transfer assets (cash or securities) to the Foundation in exchange for a commitment by the Foundation to pay them (and a second annuitant, if the donor so chooses) a fixed and guaranteed payment for the remainder of their lifetime(s). On the death of the annuitant(s), the remaining principal is retained by the Foundation to carry out the donor's charitable intentions. The minimum amount to establish an ICF gift annuity is $10,000. The size of the payments depends on the age(s) of the annuitant(s) and the size of the contribution. The older the annuitant(s) when the annuity payments start, the larger the payments. An annuitant must be at least age 60 before payments start. The payments will never change, no matter what happens to the economy or interest rates. Payments are typically made in four equal installments, one at the end of each calendar quarter.

A specific charity can also be named to benefit from the remainder interest. Once all of the annuity payments have been made, up to one half of the remainder can be paid to a charity as a direct contribution. The residual portion of the remainder interest will be placed in an ICF fund to benefit the named charity, providing this residual meets ICF's minimum requirement to establish a fund. If that is not the case, the residual will be placed in ICF's Community Trust Fund to support greatest needs throughout Idaho.

FEES AND CHARGES

There is no fee to establish a fund in the Foundation, and a minimum of paperwork is required.

- Most endowment funds are assessed an annual management fee of 1%, with .25% being assessed at the end of each quarter on the average market value of the fund. (Scholarship Funds are subject to a minimum annual fee of $250.)
- Endowment funds created by nonprofit organizations (agency funds) are assessed an annual management fee of .5%, with .125% being assessed at the end of each quarter on the average market value of the fund, or $250 annually, whichever is greater.

- For non-endowed philanthropic gift funds there is no charge related to monies which remain in the fund for at least six months. ICF, however, retains the earnings on the fund. Monies expended from a philanthropic gift fund in less than six months are charged 2%.
- For special project funds which provide for the total expenditure of the contributions and earnings, ICF negotiates the fee with the organization based on the amount of administrative work required.

Additionally, each fund, on a quarterly basis, is assessed its pro-rata share of the fees paid to ICF's investment managers. These fees were .25% at year end.

TOGETHER IDAHO COMMUNITY FUND PROGRAM

Create a new fund and receive $5,000!

ICF has unveiled a new and exciting opportunity to help donors build a better Idaho.

Anyone can create a "Together Idaho" advised geographic field-of-interest fund to permanently benefit a specific community or geographic area within Idaho.

Once the fund reaches a minimum of $25,000 (can be pledged over 5 years), the fund becomes eligible, on a first-come-first-served basis to receive $5,000 to award to local nonprofit organizations.

Fund creators establish a community Advisory Committee to recommend grant recipients each year, based on the amount of distribution available from the endowed fund.

Thus far, community funds have been established to benefit the nonprofits and citizens of Eagle, Caribou County, Nampa, and Post Falls.

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION'S INVESTMENTS AND FINANCE

Comments from ICF's treasurer and chairman of the Investment Committee

INVESTMENT POLICY

The Idaho Community Foundation invests its endowment for the long term in accord with a written policy on investments and distributions which is available on the ICF website. The goal is to preserve or increase the value of the endowment over the long term, while continuing to distribute grants. Funds in the Foundation which are not endowed and are fully expendable are invested in liquid money market instruments. Such funds include donor-advised philanthropic gift funds and special project funds.

INVESTMENTS

The endowment consists of a diversified portfolio of stocks and bonds, allocated among asset classes. At year end 2008, the target allocation was 65% domestic equities, 15% international equities, and 20% domestic fixed income. The Foundation does not invest in so-called alternatives such as hedge funds or derivatives and does not make investments which have restrictions on liquidity.

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE

The Foundation's Investment Committee provides oversight for the investment process. The Committee makes recommendations to the ICF Board on investment policy and the selection of investment managers to enable the Foundation to achieve good long-term investment performance through a prudent degree of diversification and differentiation of management style. The Investment Committee members review results regularly, meet at least quarterly as a committee, and meet at least annually with individual managers to discuss past performance, strategy, and the management organization of each firm.

INVESTMENT MANAGERS

Managers are hired for specific investment assignments. ICF currently retains the following equity managers:

- Dimensional Fund Advisors
- Wells Capital Management
- The Vanguard Group

The Foundation's fixed income manager is State Street Global Advisors. Strategic Investment Solutions provides consultation on strategy, structure of portfolio, selection and evaluation of individual managers, and performance measurement.

Irv Littman

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

Like most long-term investors, ICF believes in accepting certain short-term risks inherent in investing in equities in order to benefit from the long-term rewards which have historically resulted from such an investment strategy. The Foundation's return for 2008 while negative, was comparable to the performance of other foundations and endowments. The U.S. equity market was down 37% in 2008.

The Foundation's investment performance (average annual return) of its endowment for the periods ending 12/31/08 was:

- 1 year -32.4%
- 3 years -6.2%
- 5 years -0.4%
- 10 years + 1.8 %

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

The Investment Committee focuses on effectively managing the costs of investment. Individual funds within ICF's endowment benefit from the efficiencies and cost-effectiveness achieved by being part of ICF's pool of funds. The overall investment management fee incurred by ICF's endowment was approximately .25% at year end 2008.

ANNUAL DISTRIBUTIONS

The Foundation applies the TOTAL RETURN CONCEPT in determining the funds available for distribution from a given fund. The objective of the Total Return Concept is to allow the Foundation to be responsive to current needs while maintaining the purchasing power and grant making capacity of its endowment over the long term. In accord with this concept, in November of each year the Foundation Board establishes a distribution level for the following year based on the average market value of an individual fund for the prior two to thirteen quarters, depending upon when the fund was established.

This calculation method has the effect of smoothing distribution and investment results over a rolling three year period. It leads to a distribution level based on long-term performance trends, and not on the results for any one year, thus avoiding severe fluctuations in dollars available for distribution. Historically, the distribution level, based on the Total Return formula set forth above, has been 5%. Following its past practice, the ICF Board in November approved the 5% level for 2009 distributions.

THE INVESTMENT COMMITTEE IS HERE FOR YOU.

The Committee includes members from each of ICF's three regions. We are dedicated to the long-term benefit of your fund in the Idaho Community Foundation.

Irv Littman, Treasurer
Chairman, Investment Committee

DISTRIBUTION CALCULATION

An individual fund balance at 12/31/08 = balance at 12/31/07 + contributions to the fund during the year +/- the fund's pro rata share of investment gains or losses - the fund's share of management fees - grants or distributions. (The balance for each individual fund is calculated quarterly, and these fund balances are available online for fund advisors or contacts to view.)

(1) Land for resale includes two non-cash contributions of property donated to the Foundation. These pieces of property will be sold and the proceeds will enable the donors to fulfill their charitable interests.

(2) During 2000 the Foundation adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 136, which specifically requires that if a not-for-profit organization establishes a fund at a community foundation with its own funds and specifies itself as the beneficiary of that fund, the community foundation must account for the transfer of such assets as a liability. The Foundation refers to such funds as agency endowments. For financial reporting purposes, distributions from agency endowments in the amounts of $238,665 in 2007 and $297,623 in 2008 are not included in the reported Grants and Distributions of the Foundation.

(3) Represents outstanding pledges less reserves.

When a divorce is so difficult that a court orders supervised child visitation, it can be hard to find an appropriate location for the visit. Thanks to a grant from the Idaho Community Foundation, the Family Services Alliance Fund of Southeast Idaho today can offer a more appealing setting.

The Family Service Alliance in Pocatello provides shelter and advocacy for victims of sexual and domestic assault and often is the location for supervised visitation, said Sarah Leeds, Alliance director. "We only had an indoor room, which is not a particularly good location for young, active children," Leeds said.

"Thank to an ICF grant from the Ifft Foundation Fund, we were able to landscape an outdoor area so that families can have a picnic in the summer or build a snowman in the winter. It's much better for our families, and it's also a nice improvement for the neighborhood. We would not have been able to do it without ICF and the Ifft Foundation Fund," she added.

We're Here for FINANCIAL ADVISORS

The Idaho Community Foundation appreciates the complexities associated with creating charitable plans that meet the unique needs of donors. When your clients depend on you to create a charitable plan that meets their needs, the more you know about the possibilities and benefits of giving, the better you can help them achieve their goals. In fact, by assisting your clients with planned giving that truly integrates philanthropy with financial and estate planning, you can help your clients achieve critical lifetime goals.

Seven Questions Legal or Financial Advisors Should Ask Themselves:

1. Do I have clients who care deeply about their local community?
2. Do they give to more than one charitable cause?
3. Are they interested in creating a personal or family legacy in their community?
4. Are they considering the creation of a private foundation, but concerned about cost and administrative complexity?
5. Would they like to stay personally involved in the use of their gift dollars?
6. Do they want to receive maximum tax benefit for their charitable contributions under federal law?
7. Do they place a priority on sound financial management of their contributions?

If you answered YES to any of these questions, your clients would benefit from knowing more about the Idaho Community Foundation. We'd be happy to help you make an introduction.

Perhaps you feel strongly about a cause. Perhaps an organization has touched your life or the lives of loved ones. Maybe you want to create a legacy and set an example that inspires others to give. Or your giving is a way to gather your family and pass along your values to younger generations.

FINDING WHAT FITS

As many motivators as there are to give, there are also many ways of giving. The key to a rewarding giving experience is finding the best fit—for your charitable priorities, financial goals, and personal preferences.

STARTING YOUR OWN CHARITABLE FUND IN THE IDAHO COMMUNITY FOUNDATION IS SIMPLE.

JUST FOLLOW THESE STEPS:

1. DETERMINE YOUR CHARITABLE PURPOSE OR INTENT.

- What would you like the fund to do?
- Meet the most urgent needs in your community?
- Provide support to a variety of charities?
- Provide a permanent source of income to a specific organization?
- Support a broad field of interest, such as the arts or youth?
- Provide scholarships?
- Allow your spouse, children or other designated advisors to recommend grant recipients?

2. SELECT THE TYPE OF FUND THAT MATCHES YOUR CHARITABLE INTERESTS.

Determine whether your fund will be endowed or non-endowed. An endowment fund provides an ongoing, perpetual source of funds from which grants may be made. A non-endowed or fully-expendable fund may be spent down entirely.

3. DECIDE ON YOUR DEGREE OF INVOLVEMENT.

ICF has a statewide Board of Directors, volunteer Regional Grants Panels, and professional staff members who are knowledgeable about local nonprofits and community issues. You can choose to rely on their judgment regarding grants from your fund, or you can choose a high degree of personal involvement. You may make grant recommendations (donor advised) or have ICF research grant making opportunities and authorize grants from your fund (field-of-interest).

4. CHOOSE WHEN TO GIVE.

You can start your fund now with a gift that goes to work immediately or you can arrange to establish your fund in the future through your estate plan.

5. CHOOSE WHAT TO GIVE.

You can start your fund with almost any kind of asset—cash, publicly traded securities, closely held stock, interests in limited partnerships, real estate, and in some cases, tangible personal property. For future gifts, you may consider a bequest, a trust, the designation of ICF as the beneficiary of an insurance policy or your retirement plan. Tax deductions are earned at the time of the gift, while grant making continues into the future.

6. CHOOSE A NAME FOR YOUR FUND.

Every grant from your fund carries its name. Many people like the concept of giving in perpetuity, so choose to name their fund for themselves, for their family, or as a memorial to someone special. You can also remain anonymous.

7. COMPLETE AND SIGN A SIMPLE AGREEMENT ESTABLISHING YOUR FUND.

The Foundation prepares a fund agreement, tailored to the donor's interest and needs, ensuring that the wishes of the donor will be carried out as specified in the agreement. The donor can receive a tax deduction whenever contributions are made to the fund. Once the agreement is signed, philanthropy can be worry-free. ICF takes care of government reporting, grant paperwork, accounting, and audits. Most importantly, you will have joined many others who, through their giving, are enriching the quality of life throughout Idaho.

Richard and Donna Hutter: Giving Back to a Giving Community

“We are longtime Idaho residents, and it’s a wonderful state. We also have a very giving community in Bonner County, and we want to give back after we’re gone,” said Richard Hutter. Richard has been an ICF board member, and his wife, Donna, currently is a Northern Region Grants Panel member. They have both a charitable gift annuity with ICF and a donor-advised fund.

Among the charities with a special place in their heart are the Toys for Tots drive, organized by the Lions Club in Bonner County; Kinderhaven, a local home for abused children and teens; and the Bonner County Historical Society. They also volunteer for many local events.

“We’ve had enough experience with ICF to know that it is terrific,” Donna said. “We never considered putting our fund anywhere else.”

We're Here for PHILANTHROPIC AND EDUCATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

ICF recognizes that its mission to enrich the quality of life throughout Idaho depends on the health of Idaho nonprofits. We assist philanthropic and educational organizations through the following services:

- Charitable gift annuities arranged through ICF to benefit the philanthropic organization.
- Professional management of agency endowment funds, established to create lasting operating support through annual distributions.
- A variety of funding opportunities through our regional grant cycles, from competitive donor-advised grants, and from recommendations from individual funds.
- Invitations to educational and social events to interact with donors, collaborate with other professionals in the same service area, and enhance skills.

CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITIES

In addition to offering charitable gift annuities which will ultimately benefit ICF, the Foundation is partnering with nonprofits wishing to offer gift annuities as a tool to build their own endowments, and to secure direct financial support for their programs. Here's how the partnership works:

1. A nonprofit brings a potential annuitant to ICF.
2. ICF will issue and manage a charitable gift annuity and make the annuity payments to the named annuitant(s) for life.
3. After all the annuity payments have been made, up to one half of the remainder can be paid to your organization as a direct contribution. The residual of the remainder, if it meets ICF's $10,000 minimum requirement, will be placed in an ICF endowment fund to benefit your organization.

We encourage you to add this program to your list of possibilities as you work with your constituents.

AGENCY ENDOWMENT FUNDS

Establishing an endowment fund reflects a commitment to the long-term stability of your organization. Through our Agency Fund Program, a charitable organization may transfer all or part of its endowment to ICF to participate in our investment program. Here are some of the benefits of establishing an endowment fund at ICF:

- Easy Set-Up: $10,000 minimum investment with a 5 year pledge option
- Low Cost: .5% annual management fee to relieve your staff of administrative tasks ($250 minimum annual fee)
- Expertise: ICF has experienced staff and relationships with leading financial institutions
- Permanence: Assurance of long-term support for your organization in the form of predictable annual distributions to be used as your board sees fit
- Board Oversight: Monitoring by ICF's experienced Board Investment Committee
- Accountability: Annual audit of all ICF funds at no additional cost

William D. Eberle Fund: "He Loved Idaho"

He was speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, a founder and vice president of Boise Cascade, chairman and CEO of American Standard, U.S. special trade representative under Presidents Nixon and Ford, and director of

"It's very easy to work with the Idaho Community Foundation," said his son. "They were extremely helpful in setting up the fund at a time that we were confronting a lot of decisions. We know the donations in his memory are in good hands with the Foundation, and that they are going to help truly needy families."

Jack Thomas Hill Fund: Treating Autism in Idaho

When Tom and Rhonda Hill's son was diagnosed with autism, they found it was difficult to obtain the care he needed in Idaho. As a result, Rhonda Hill moved to Florida, where they still reside, so that Jack, now 8, could enroll in a quality school geared to his needs.

"We wanted to start a trust fund for our son," Hill said, "and we wanted to establish it in a way that would have learn-time value. The ultimate beneficiary of the fund will be people with autism and educators working with them. Our hope is to help Idaho specialists with professional development so there will be more local resources."

The Ada County parents established the Jack Thomas Hill Fund, named after their son, in the Idaho Community Foundation because of their good experiences working with a Foundation executive on other civic projects. "It is a fantastic organization and vehicle for people who want to give back to the community," Hill said. "It is a professionally managed environment, and has a good track record both in terms of the return on its endowment and the grants that it makes. Working with ICF eliminates worrying about all the controls that are necessary if you set up your own foundation."

Weiser River Trail Fund: Beginning a Long-Term Endowment

The Weiser River Trail Fund started when a member wanted to make a substantial donation to the Friends of Weiser River Trails, and said her hope was to begin a long-term endowment. Mary Ellen Pugh, an officer of the organization and a former ICF regional grants panel member, suggested setting up a designated fund in ICF rather than managing their own endowment.

“ICF has been extremely good to work with,” said Shirley Atteberry, president of the Friends organization. “They’re very professional, they’re prompt in responding to our inquiries, and they send personalized thank-you notes to donors for us. It’s been a good relationship.”

The goal now is to build the endowment fund to $1 million to provide support for the 86-mile long recreational trail in Washington and Adams counties. Funds have, in the past, been used to improve the old railroad trestles by adding planking and handrails. Future projects include the development of more access points and trailheads. ## Idaho Falls Symphony: “ICF Understands Nonprofit Funding”

When the Idaho Falls Symphony set up an endowment fund last year, it asked for proposals from nine banks and/or investment managers, including ICF. “We needed to talk to a number of possible managers as part of our due diligence,” said Bruce Turner, a banker in private life, president of the Idaho Symphony Endowment, Inc., and a former president of the Idaho Falls Symphony, Inc.

Most board members of the Idaho Falls Symphony Endowment, Inc., he noted, also have served as president of the symphony, which is organized as a separate entity. “Our board understands the funding challenges, as well as the opportunities in bringing arts to the community, and we wanted an investment manager with the same understanding. ICF was our choice because it works exclusively with nonprofits and matches our investment risk criteria,” he added.

Panhandle Alliance: “Endowment Will Provide Security”

A Sandpoint High School student participates in the school's popular welding program—just one of the many programs the Panhandle Alliance for Education (PAFE) has supported over the years.

Mindy Cameron and her husband, William Berg, wanted to do something to help their new community when they moved to Sandpoint eight years ago. Their gift was the creation of the Panhandle Alliance for Education to benefit the Lake Pend Oreille School District. It is modeled after the Seattle School Foundation in the city where they previously lived.

Over the past six years the fund has given more than $1 million in grants to the school district, in addition to starting a separate endowment. “We probably have been as successful on a per-child basis as any public school fund of its kind in the Northwest,” said Cameron. “There is a lot of comfort in building an endowment. Even if donations drop in a given year, we will have some funds available. That provides us with security going forward. We placed the fund in ICF because managing an endowment fund such as ours is one of the services that ICF provides, and it does it very well.”

It is well to give when asked but it is better to give unasked, through understanding.

Summer and Jonathan Lang: A Wedding Present for the Community

When Summer Hinton and Jonathan Lang married last summer, they wanted their own wedding present to be a gift to the community. "My wife grew up in Jerome and was aware that there are relatively few scholarships for people from Idaho," her husband said. "So we asked people to donate to a scholarship fund for students from Jerome area high schools. Even though we live in Connecticut now, my wife still knows people in the area who could benefit, and her parents still live in Jerome." The name of the fund, the Merrit Brook Scholarship, was taken from the newlyweds' middle names.

"We considered setting up our own charitable organization and realized quickly that the legal and tax implications were an extensive burden," Lang added. "So we started looking at ICE. There is a very low expense ratio, and the investment policies are conservative and stable. That was what we wanted."

We're Here for GRANT SEEKERS

Thanks to the generosity of our donors, the dedicated work of our volunteer Regional Grants Panels and donor advisors, and the commitment of those who write and submit grants applications, the Idaho Community Foundation is able to provide significant dollars each year toward enriching the quality of life throughout Idaho. Since its inception in 1988, ICF has distributed more than $42.4 million for worthwhile philanthropic projects. One of the most valuable services we can provide to grant seekers is acting as a broker, connecting those with great philanthropic projects with the donors who might wish to fund them.

TYPES OF FUNDING

ICF offers a variety of funding opportunities for organizations throughout the state. The most common ways of obtaining funding are as follows:

REGIONAL GRANT CYCLES

There are currently three regional competitive grant cycles annually: the Northern Region (Nov 1 - Jan 15), the Eastern Region (Feb 1 - Apr 1), and the Southwestern Region (May 1 - July 1). Here's how the regional grants process works:

- 1. Organization Submits Online
Application: Applications are available on the ICF website and ask for information such as organization mission, project purpose, project budget, etc. Requests are limited to a maximum of $5,000.
- 2. Volunteer Regional Grants Panel Reviews Each Application: Volunteer regional panel members, who reside in and have shown a deep understanding of the needs of their region, receive all grant applications. Often, they will make site visits or phone calls to organizations with which they are unfamiliar. (To see the current panel membership for your region, please see page 62.)
- 3. Regional Grants Panel Meets and Makes Selections to be Recommended to the ICF Board: The panel meeting consists of extended discussion and several rounds of voting through which panel members decide on the awardees and the amount of each award to be recommended to the ICF Board. During this time, members will share information they have gained on the applicants.
- 4. ICF Board Reviews and Votes on Panel Recommendations: The ICF Board of Directors relies heavily on the local knowledge of panel members in making funding decisions.

- 5. Award Notification & Disbursement: Following the Board meeting, each applicant is notified of the status of their application via email to the primary contact of the applicant. Awardees are also given a grant agreement, outlining requirements for funds expenditure and end of grant reports. Once this is signed and returned to ICF, a check is issued to the organization.

DONOR-ADVISED GRANT CYCLES

Several donor advisors have established competitive grant cycles through which they can make selections from solicited applications. The Deer Creek Fund, the Ifft Foundation Fund, the Perc H. Shelton and Gladys A Pospisil Shelton Foundation Advised Fund, and the Geography Knowledge Fund have developed unique grant cycles separate from ICF's regional grant cycles. Each has different guidelines and applications, so we encourage you to visit our website for additional information.

DONOR RECOMMENDATIONS FROM INDIVIDUAL FUNDS

Donors at ICF have the opportunity to establish funds from which they may make grant recommendations to the ICF Board throughout the year. These include the popular donor-advised funds (endowed) and philanthropic gift funds (non-endowed). Donors may make recommendations based on personal experiences with organizations inside and outside of Idaho, or in response to applications submitted through the regional grant cycles. ICF offers summary lists of these applications to donors who are interested.

SCHOLARSHIPS

ICF currently manages over 60 individual scholarship funds. Each scholarship has its own application requirements, review process, and application deadline. For additional information, please visit ICF's website at www.idcomfdn.org.

For more information about funding opportunities through ICF, please visit our website at www.idcomfdn.org.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT ICF DISTRIBUTIONS

Why are applicants to the regional grant cycles limited to $5,000?

Rather than making a few large grants each year, we are interested in helping many Idaho communities. ICF often provides funds to smaller communities where philanthropic capital is scarce.

Do all grants require an end of grant report?

Grant agreements are sent to the awardees and must be returned to ICF before a check is issued. All regional competitive grants, and most of the donor-advised grants, require end of grant reports.

Why are some Idaho areas funded more than others?

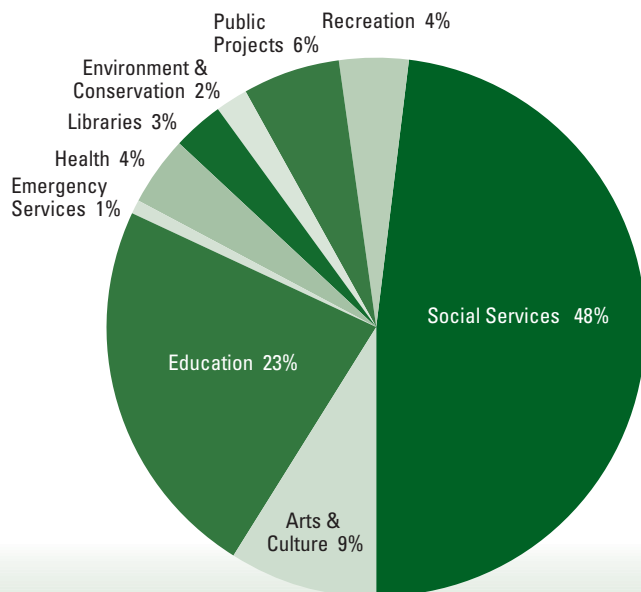

Some areas, such as Blaine, Gem, and Kootenai Counties, benefit directly from endowment funds established by donors who wanted to create perpetual funding for those specific areas. If you would like to see more grants made in your area, please contact ICF to discuss the possibility of creating a fund to benefit your city, county, or region.

Why does ICF grant outside of Idaho?

Each fund established in ICF must be of substantial benefit to Idaho. However, ICF believes it appropriate to consider the advice of donors who may have roots or interests in other states.

Does ICF partner with other foundations in grant-making?

ICF has well-established relationships with funding partners such as the Steele-Reese Foundation and Northwest Area Foundation, who depend on our local knowledge of Idaho needs. ICF is always exploring ways to deepen these relationships and create new partnerships.

Warhawk Air Museum: Firsthand Stories of World War II

Hundreds of high school students sit at the feet of World War II veterans every year at Canyon County's Warhawk Air Museum, learning firsthand how an older generation risked their lives for their country. The history lessons are particularly poignant as the students realize the veterans fought for their country when they were the same age – or only a few years older – than the students themselves. But every year, the number of aging veterans dwindles.

An ICF grant will help fund "Bridging the Generations," a $13,000 professional film of interviews with these veterans and their conversations with students. "Right now high school students have a very personal experience with veterans," said Sue Paul, executive director of the museum dedicated to World War II history. "We want to preserve these experiences forever, and it is important to do it now while the veterans are still alive."

Like many ICF projects, the film is a collaboration. Funding also is coming from the museum and other foundations, and the filmmaker himself is donating a portion of his time.

PAL Activities: "Partnering with ICF Makes It Easier"

In Nampa an ICF grant is helping with expenses for the 1,000 to 1,200 students who participate in various programs through the Police Athletic/Activities League each year.

"We have two different styles of programs, one with athletic-based activities such as the outdoors club and football and boxing programs, and one to get kids interested in the academic skills that they need to succeed in life," said Police Chief Bill Augsburg.

"Kids who complete one of our programs qualify for an incentive, usually in the form of a trip to an amusement center for fun and pizza," he explained. "The cost of food and transportation adds up. We've partnered with ICF for the past several years. Otherwise, we probably would have been looking at cuts in programs that we feel are important to the community."

J&K Good Samaritan Food Bank: Keeping Pace with Growing Demand

Starting last October, about three to six new families a month were seeking help from the J&K Good Samaritan Food Bank in Latah County. For Thanksgiving, there were 44 requests for food baskets. By Christmas, 65 families needed help. By January, a total of 199 people were receiving weekly boxes of canned vegetables, soups and fruit.

Thanks to a grant from ICF, the food bank is able to meet the increasing demand, said Larry Haylett, Food Bank president. "We get a lot of small, personal contributions," he explained, "and the grant made it possible for us to keep up with the growing demand, particularly during the holidays.

"A lot of people are hurting now," he added. "Our office is on Main Street in Kendrick and serves the Julietta-Kendrick area. Our location also helps local families because they don't have to drive into Lewiston for help."

Students of the Clearwater Fire Academy assist each other in correctly adjusting fire equipment. A grant was provided to the Clearwater Fire Chiefs Association from the Northern Region Greatest Need Fund.

Helping the Blake Webb Motorcycle Safety Awareness Foundation to Save Lives

When 12-year-old Blake Webb was killed on a motocross track on March 17, 2007, two things had gone wrong. First, riders were not segregated according to their ages and the size of their bikes. Second, no flaggers were present to signal an approaching rider that Blake had overturned his bike on the far side of a double jump. He was picking up his bike when a 19-year-old on a much larger bike went over the jump and was unable to avoid striking him.

The tragedy inspired his parents, Jessi and Laurice Webb and his brother, Mickey, to create a foundation. The Kootenai County family began an on-going campaign to prevent another such tragedy. They give away flags to encourage tracks to use them, and a $1,000 grant from Idaho Community Foundation is helping with this part of the program. They also are working with the Idaho legislature to make safety precautions a legal requirement.

"The ICF grant has been extremely helpful, and we are going to keep grinding away at this," Webb said. "It's very healing for us. We don't know how many lives we have saved, but we know we've saved some."

The Oneida Crisis Center in Malad received funding from the Ifft Foundation Fund to enhance the beauty of the grounds surrounding the shelter facility, which serves victims and survivors of domestic violence.

Membership—The Foundation on Which We Build

The Idaho Community Foundation reaches far and wide, not only in its grant-making, but with its membership. Hundreds of people all over the state believe in ICF and support its mission of enriching the quality of life throughout Idaho. Listed below are our members as of March 31, 2009.

MEMBERSHIP

Members are charged with the responsibility of annually electing the Foundation's Board and providing general advice and assistance. It is this statewide network that allows the good news of ICF to reach even the smallest Idaho towns. Members share the vision, encourage nonprofits to apply for grants, and help create more funds so that more distributions can be made. Our goal is to have members in every Idaho county and community.

MEMBERSHIP FEES

ICF offers a graduated membership fee structure to accommodate those members who wish to support Foundation operating expenses. The minimum donation for an annual individual membership is $25. Non-voting corporate and nonprofit affiliate memberships are also available. Membership contributions are 100% tax-deductible and are deposited directly into the ICF general operating fund to help fund the Foundation's administrative expenses.

For information about becoming a member, please refer to the enclosed envelope, visit our website at www.idcomfdn.org, or contact the ICF office.

Elk Bend Quick Response Unit: Bringing Electricity to a New Building

When there is a highway accident or medical emergency near the tiny community of Elk Bend, located between Challis and Salmon, the Elk Bend Quick Response Unit in Lemhi County gets the first call. The 11 volunteers who make up the unit provide emergency medical assistance until an ambulance can arrive from Salmon, 23 miles away.

The unit had been parking its truck in a member's carport. It was not secure, and the truck also was exposed to the weather. The Steele-Reese Foundation gave the unit a $50,000 grant to buy land and construct a building to house the truck, but it didn't go quite far enough. The Idaho Community Foundation added $3,000 for a power pole needed to bring electricity to the site.

"We've been known to save a life or two," said Tom McClenahan, president of the unit, which is the first responder in an area that covers approximately 300 square miles, including 16 miles of the Salmon River. "With the ICF grant, we were able to obtain the power pole in a timely manner, and that really helped us. We are grateful to organizations such as the Idaho Community Foundation and the Steele-Reese Foundation. Without them, we could not have raised enough money to do our project," he added. "Our only income is from grants and donations, as we do not charge for our emergency services."
