From the President

The Idaho Community Foundation had a wonderful and celebratory 2013 and we are very grateful to all of you who helped us commemorate our 25th Anniversary! About 900 of you attended one of our annual luncheons and learned about ICF's early days from our founder John Fery and former ICF President and CEO Alice Hennessey.

During the luncheons, we presented the second annual On The Spot grant awards, during which audience members watched brief and entertaining presentations from three local nonprofits and voted to decide which would receive the top grant.

Thanks to generous donations from our sponsors and Board of Directors we gave $18,000 in first place and runner-up grants to nine Idaho nonprofits. Congratulations to the top vote getters in each region – Boise Urban Garden School in Boise, Panhandle Animal Shelter in Sandpoint and Mahoney House in Salmon. Due to the Beaver Creek Fire in Sun Valley we had to cancel our luncheon at the last minute and so we awarded three equal grants to Nurture Idaho, Sun Valley Performing Arts/nexStage Theatre and The Connection.

And finally we hosted Silver Jubilee events and invited our earliest founders, fund creators, board members and other early supporters to help us celebrate our 25th anniversary over a wonderful meal. We saw people we hadn't seen in several years and reminisced about ICF and Idaho in the late 1980s and early 90s. It was like a family reunion, and we enjoyed it immensely!

In addition to having fun celebrating in 2013, we worked hard and had a very good year financially:

- Endowment – $95 million, an increase of 11.1 percent over the last three years and 15.4 percent over the last five years
- Contributions – $7.1 million endowed and $2.8 million non-endowed, up from $6.5 million total in 2012
- Assets – $115 million, up from $95 million in 2012
- Distributions – $5.1 million in grants and scholarships, and more than $70 million distributed since 1991
- Number of Funds – Increased from 474 to 492

At ICF, we frequently talk about the power of endowment. Endowments are a marathon rather than a sprint and they help organizations weather downturns in the economy like the Great Recession. As we prepared for our 25th

Anniversary, we looked at our earliest endowed funds to see how they've performed. We discovered we have quite a few of what we call Exemplary Funds – funds that have distributed more than their original gift and have continued to grow.

For example the Donald W. and Gretchen K. Fraser Fund was established with $300,000 in 1994 and has distributed more than $378,000 to nonprofits in Blaine County. And the fund itself has grown to nearly $415,000. You can read more about Donald and Gretchen Fraser in this Annual Report – they were a fascinating couple!

We also have stories about new funds created by the West Side School District in tiny Dayton, Idaho just 16 miles north of the Utah border; C.K. Haun and Karen Meyer, a married couple whose life experiences led them to create two meaningful funds; and the Bonner County Human Rights Task Force, which has existed for more than 20 years and will provide grants of up to $8,000 through ICF to organizations whose activities reflect a commitment to equality.

As always, we thank you for another great year and for allowing ICF to help you Find Your Passion, Invest Wisely and Give Forever.

Best wishes,

(1) Land for resale includes two non-cash contributions of property donated to the Foundation. The Foundation intends to sell the land and place the proceeds in specific funds according to the donation agreements. The value of the land recorded as an asset is equivalent to the county assessed values for 2013.

(2) The Foundation accounts for its funds held as agency endowments in accordance with FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic ASC 958 (previously Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 136). ASC 958 specifically requires that if a Not-For-Profit Organization (NPO) accepts cash or other financial assets from a donor, agrees to use those assets on behalf of or transfer those assets to establish a fund at a community foundation, and specifies itself as the beneficiary of that fund, the community foundation must account for the transfer of such asset as a liability. For financial reporting purposes, distributions from agency endowments in the amounts of $463,566 in 2013 and $449,758 in 2012 are not included in the reported Grants and Distributions of the Foundation.

(3) Represents outstanding pledges less reserves.

Donald and Gretchen Fraser:

A LIFELONG DEVOTION TO EACH OTHER AND BLAINE COUNTY

The Community Library Regional History Department, Ketchum

DONALD AND GRETCHEN FRASER AT SUN VALLEY IN THE MID 1950S.

Donald and Gretchen Fraser were an extraordinary couple. They were both Olympic skiers – Gretchen was America’s first gold medalist in a Winter Games – who shared a birthday and died just 36 days apart. They spent many years competing and vacationing in Sun Valley and chose it as their permanent home after they retired.

The Donald W. and Gretchen K. Fraser Fund was established through their estate planning and is designated for the benefit of Blaine County nonprofits.

“It contributes to the vitality of our community and maximizes what can happen here,” said Jenny Emery-Davidson, who has represented Blaine County for three years on ICF’s Southwest Regional Grants

Panel. “Our nonprofits know about the fund and it inspires them to be creative with their projects and assertive in seeking funding.”

Davidson said the grants panel tries to fund as many projects as possible using the Fraser fund and likes to make sure they are diverse.

The local chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI – Wood River Valley), received the largest Fraser grant in 2013 of $2,500 to launch a support group for returning veterans. Wendy Norbom, NAMI Wood River’s former executive director said services like that are important in rural communities like the Wood River Valley where there is a limited number of qualified medical providers and where people may not have insurance to pay for services.

“By offering free, confidential mental health services that are vital to their general well-being, our entire community benefits,” said Norbom, who still works as a consultant for the organization.

The Hailey Public Library has used grants from the Fraser fund to upgrade its 12-year-old computers and outdated printers. Circulation manager Lyn Drewien said visitors are impressed that a small library has such state-of-the-art equipment.

“On a daily basis, we receive compliments from our library patrons about the services that we provide to them – most of which are completely free of charge. Our patrons are very grateful to have this access, and are not shy to tell us how much they appreciate it,” Drewien said.

The Frasers supported a variety of Blaine County organizations during their lifetimes, many of which reflected their hobbies and passions. In addition to being avid skiers, the Frasers were both accomplished pilots. Gretchen rode horses all her life and served on the Olympic Equestrian Committee and played a key role in opening Olympic equestrian competitions to women.

The couple met while skiing on Mt. Rainier, not long after Don returned from the 1936 Olympics in Germany where he competed on skis he made himself.

The Frasers married in 1939 and both made the U.S. Olympic Ski Team in 1940, but the Games were canceled that year because of World War II. In 1948 at the age of 29, Gretchen was again named to the Olympic ski team. She took silver in the combined event and two days later came in first in the slalom, becoming the first American ever to win gold at the Winter Olympics. Gretchen’s Gold ski run at Sun Valley and Gretchen’s Restaurant in the Sun Valley Lodge are both named for her.

C.K. Haun and Karen Meyer:

ONE COUPLE, TWO FUNDS AND A FOCUS ON EDUCATION

Retired ICF Board Director C.K. Haun and his wife Karen Meyer each established funds at ICF in 2013. C.K. established the Tools of the Trade Fund, a philanthropic gift fund that supports Idaho's skilled professionals by helping them purchase their first set of tools, and Karen established the Rachel Meyer Memorial Fund, a donor advised fund that supports early childhood education organizations and programs for pre-kindergarten youth ages 2 ½ to 5 years.

The inspiration for their funds came from their early career experiences. C.K.'s early employment was as an airplane mechanic, and he recalled that one of the biggest barriers to new mechanics entering a field is getting their first set of tools.

"It's a big expense when you have no savings, and your salary doesn't start until you get the tools," he said. "My goal is to ease the burden of starting a skilled trade career by helping to remove that barrier."

Now a director at Apple, Inc., C.K. is still a steadfast supporter of vocational education and trades.

"Idaho needs a strong foundation of middle-class skilled tradespeople, from mechanics to beauticians," he said. "These are jobs fundamental to all our lives, and jobs that cannot be outsourced or shipped overseas. These jobs don't need a bachelor's degree, but solid vocational training programs."

Karen's professional career began as a Montessori teacher in Europe. Upon returning to the United States she was disappointed to see so little focus on early childhood development.

"Children who are exposed to basic learning skills prior to kindergarten continue learning at a much faster pace. Once the foundation is set, it serves them for the rest of their life," she said.

One of the ways her fund will support early childhood education is by providing scholarships for children to enroll in programs their parents might otherwise be unable to afford.

"I know that many families would love for their children to have this opportunity, and providing scholarships can help," she said. The fund is named for Karen's daughter Rachel Meyer, who passed away in 2008. "She loved teaching and I wanted to establish a legacy in her name."

C.K. and Karen chose ICF to establish their funds because they said they appreciated ICF's local knowledge and financial expertise.

"ICF has the financial acumen, the statewide relationships, and the creativity needed to tailor and manage a fund to meet my goals and to enhance fellow Idahoans' lives," C.K. said. "A national funding organization doesn't know us like ICF does."

Karen and C.K., who are celebrating 20 years together this year, said they are appreciative of the success they have had and they hope to encourage others to be philanthropic.

"It's critical to us to give back and hopefully help advance the lives of others," C.K. said. "We support a variety of what we consider core community values. And, quite frankly, we also hope to set an example to others who could give but aren't yet."

Idaho Community Foundation Funds

Whether you have a clear idea of what you want to accomplish philanthropically or just an idea, the Idaho Community Foundation and its affiliates can help you achieve your charitable goals. With an ICF fund you receive immediate tax benefits but can give over time, you can give more because endowed assets grow through investments, and you can start giving now or establish a fund through a bequest.

Endowed Funds

Permanent funds to provide long-term support. Assets are invested and a small portion of the balance is available for annual distribution.

AGENCY

For nonprofits that want a stable, guaranteed source of income, want to participate in a large investment pool, and want to be able to accept gifts of cash, stock, property and other assets. ($50,000+, can be pledged over five years)

Setting up an ICF fund is easy

1. CHOOSE YOUR FUND

Endowed Funds – Permanent funds established to provide long-term support. Assets are invested and a small portion of the balance (currently 4.5%) is available for annual distribution.

Non-Endowed Funds – Fully expendable funds invested in conservative, liquid money market instruments that allow for immediate distributions and maximum flexibility.

2. DECIDE WHEN

You can create your fund now or establish it as part of your estate. Tax deductions are realized at the time of the gift.

3. DECIDE HOW

Funds can be created with many different kinds of assets including: cash, checks or money orders; appreciated property (securities or real estate); tangible personal property (art or other collectables); private foundation transfer; bequests; qualified retirement plans; life insurance; and/or charitable gift annuity.

4. EXECUTE A FUND AGREEMENT

Work with ICF staff to draft and execute a fund agreement outlining your wishes and instructions.

BONNER COUNTY HUMAN RIGHTS TASK FORCE ESTABLISHES ICF FUND

For more than 20 years, members of the Bonner County Human Rights Task Force have worked in their community to promote human dignity and reject intolerance. They have provided support to Lake Pend Oreille School District's "Character Counts" anti-bullying program, organized annual Martin Luther King celebrations and more.

Task Force President Brenda Hammond said Bonner County is similar to other Idaho counties and those nationwide with one significant exception: "We have experienced our own struggle with the Christian Identity Movement and the community disharmony and economic consequences of being located near the now-defunct Aryan Nations. We know how destructive bigotry and harassment can be to the quality of life in a community."

Their work caught the attention of Dorothy Adler in the small Bonner County town of Kootenai, who left them a bequest of $370,000 when she passed away in early 2012. Adler's large estate was divided between the task force, the Panhandle Animal Shelter and students at Lake Pend Oreille Alternative High School. The generous bequest caught everyone by surprise because even Adler's closest friends didn't know she was wealthy and the three organizations named in her will hadn't had much, if any, interaction with her.

"We had to assume that Ms. Adler would want us to use these funds in ways that supported our mission," Hammond said. "We decided not to use the endowment to fund our own activities but to provide funds for other community organizations to make their own statement about the rights of all individuals in our community."

The task force decided to establish a donor advised fund at ICF that will provide grants of up to $8,000 to organizations whose activities reflect a commitment to equality.

"We want to support programs to help those who have been denied full community participation because of race, ethnicity, religion, disability, sexual orientation, gender identification, or socio-economic status," Hammond said. "We want to provide exposure to cultural diversity and reduce the fear that results from lack of familiarity that leads to stereotyping or exclusion."

Together Idaho Program

The Together Idaho Program helps rural communities build charitable funds that will forever distribute dollars to support local projects and organizations in their areas. ICF has six of these community affiliates, which act as small community foundations. They participate in ICF's large investment pool and operate under ICF's nonprofit status so gifts are tax deductible. They can accept a wide variety of assets, including cash, real estate, tangible personal property, life insurance policies and retirement assets. Community affiliates have their own advisory boards and run their own grant programs.

Endowments aren't just for colleges:

WEST SIDE SCHOOL DISTRICT RAISES MORE THAN $2 MILLION

Brothers Larry and Cline Dahle are West Side School District benefactors.

When then West Side School District Superintendent Melvin Beutler and curriculum and grants coordinator Melissa Waddoups gave a tour to local businessman Larry Dahle in 2007 they were hoping he might offer to purchase a grand piano for the new performing arts auditorium the district was building.

Waddoups and Dahle were neighbors and had a long-running conversation about the quality of education in the school district, which is in the rural southeast Idaho community of Dayton, about 16 miles north of the Utah border. Dahle, a Class of 1949 graduate from West Side High School, said the district did a poor job educating students in his day.

"I tore the hide off Beutler and told them it was the worst school district that ever was," Dahle remembers of their first meeting.

Beutler and Waddoups wanted to show him the truth – that West Side's high standardized test scores, distance learning opportunities, robust athletic program and nearly finished state-of-the-art auditorium made them competitive with much larger districts.

"At the end of the tour he was really impressed. He said he would either buy us the piano or help us start an endowment. I could feel Melissa kicking me under the table because she wanted an endowment," Beutler recalls with a laugh.

Sure enough, about two weeks later Dahle returned to the district office with a check for $200,000. He wanted the money to be used to start a campaign to raise $1 million, no easy feat in a town of fewer than 500 people. Dahle, who's known to be plain spoken, agreed to help.

"At one meeting with his friends and members of his family he sat everyone down and said 'You all have money – pull out your checkbooks and help these people out!'" Beutler said.

Dahle and his brother Cline Dahle were the two largest donors to the fund. Larry said it was the distance learning opportunities that convinced him the district was worthy of support. Distance learning allows high school students to take college classes without traveling to the university. More than 80 percent of West Side students graduate from high school with more than 20 college credits.

"If you are a poor kid like I was, then you know being able to get a head start on college makes all the difference," Larry said. The district also uses the fund to reimburse teachers for educational expenses to earn master's degrees, including all tuition, fees and books.

It took about a year to raise $1 million and by 2013 the endowment had grown to more than $2 million. The school district decided to transfer it into an ICF agency fund because it was becoming burdensome for the finance office.

"People are suspicious of how school districts manage their funds and they want integrity," Melissa Waddoups said. "ICF has built-in accountability, it's safe, has low management fees and high investment returns."

The district was so grateful to Larry and Cline Dahle for helping them establish their endowment that they named their auditorium the Dahle Performing Arts Center. And Larry was so touched by the honor that he gave them another gift – a grand piano.

On the Spot Grants

ICF hosted the second annual On The Spots Grants at our statewide luncheons in 2013 and gave away $18,000, thanks to our generous sponsors and supporters.

On The Spot Grants are fun because luncheon audiences get to participate. Nonprofits are selected by ICF to give short, entertaining and informative presentations and votes are cast by the audience. Unlike most grants that take weeks or months to find out results, On The Spot Grant winners are announced on the same day.

Nonprofits who received an ICF grant in 2013 are eligible to apply as presenters at our 2014 luncheons. Contact Jennifer Oxley at joxley@idcomfdn.org for more information.
